GUARDIAN OF BILLY M'CLINTOCK DENIED HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

Counsel Refuses to Comment on Report Woman
Also Was Poisoned

Springfield, Ill., April 10.—The state supreme court today denied the petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed by attorneys for William D. Shepherd, Chicago, held on an indictment charging him with the typhoid murder of his ward, William Nelson McClintock.

In denying Shepherd's last chance for freedom on bond the court set a precedent by issuing formal denial of the petition without filing the usual documents setting forth circumstances upon which it based its decision.

Chicago, April 10.—William D. Shepherd and his counsel today refused to comment on the new cry of murder hurled into the McClintock death probe by the formal report of coroner's chemists that Mrs. Mary McClintock, mother of William Nelson McClintock, for whose death Shepherd stands indicted for murder, had been killed by repeatedly administered poisons of a mercuric poison.

RADIO SEARCH FAILS TO SOLVE SILENCE OF EXPLORATION PARTY

Learn—Nothing From Steamer
Arcturus Since March 29—
Signals Are Sent

New York, April 10.—Radio search for the steamer Arcturus continued today in an effort to end the twelve day silence obtaining since the vessel and its scientific exploration party reported from 200 miles south of Panama, March 29.

The Arcturus, with scientists from the New York Zoological Society headed by William Beebe, put out from New York, February 10 to explore the Sargasso sea in mid-Atlantic, then turned westward through the Panama canal for a study of the Humboldt current off the west coast of South America and a visit to the Galapagos Islands in the Pacific Ocean.

The vessel put into Panama, March 23 for coal and provisions before continuing south.

Daily reports have been received in New York from the Arcturus through the Independent Wireless Company's station, the only wireless plant in the vicinity, capable of reaching the vessel. The only hours when a message might get through to the ship from New York, the station said, are from 3:30 to 5:30 a.m., when other stations were "off the air," because of climatic conditions. The Arcturus at present is in a region described as a "terrible static zone."

The daily effort to get a response from one of the most powerful sending sets, consisting of spark and continuous rotary transmission outfits, was today without result.

Southern stations which might reach the ship were called to aid today. All are in Central America, at Panama, Cristobal and Balboa. Because of the static which stood as a great barrier to wireless communication and the fact that the Humboldt current region is productive of storms which might disable the ship's antennae, it was not believed the silence meant the Arcturus had met disaster.

YOUNG BOY DIES AT HOSPITAL FRIDAY

Clifford Waddle, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Waddle, East Market Street, died at Espee Hospital, Friday morning at 4 o'clock. The child had been ill for two months, suffering from acute nephritis. He was removed to the hospital a week ago and his condition grew steadily worse and the contraction of uremic poisoning Thursday night resulted in the lad's death.

Besides his parents, Clifford is survived by five brothers and sisters, Louise, Mildred, Mary Ruth and James. He attended the First U. P. Church and was a pupil of the sixth grade at McKinley School.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

BABE RUTH MUCH IMPROVED IS WORD FROM HOSPITAL; MAY PLAY OPENER

Bump on Head Suffered in Collapse is Not Serious—Influenza and Overeating Blamed for Condition of Player

New York, April 10.—"Babe" Ruth, champion home run hitter, although having a slight temperature, is "much improved," according to a bulletin on his condition issued at 10:30 o'clock today by Dr. Edward L. King, physician for the New York Yankees.

"There is hardly any change," the bulletin said. "Ruth had a little temperature but he is much improved. Although he spent a rather restless night, he fell asleep early this morning and slept about four hours."

Dr. King said no further bulletins would be issued on Ruth's condition.

At the offices of the New York Yankees, it was said that Ruth would be kept at St. Vincent's Hospital for "two or three more days," and that it was hoped he would be in condition to play in the opening game of the American League season next Tuesday. However, it was added that Ruth would not be permitted in the Yankee lineup until he had fully recovered.

New York, April 10.—"Babe" Ruth was reported much improved today, at St. Vincent's Hospital where the big Yank slugger is under treatment for an attack of influenza which cut short his participation in the team's exhibition tour and came near threatening his life.

"The home run king" was still sleeping at 8 o'clock this morning, after a quiet, restful night. Ruth seemed to be well on the road to recovery, according to the Mother Superior at the hospital. The bump on his head, which he suffered when he collapsed aboard the train, which brought him to New York yesterday from Asheville, N. C., appeared to be nothing more than a bad bump, and not the cause of a possible brain concussion, as was feared at first.

Dr. Edward King, physician at St. Vincent's and also team physician for the New York Yanks, expected to pay the big batter a visit at 10 a.m., and

BURGLARS ROB STORE AT BOWERSVILLE

Burglars forced their way into the Ross Store Company, a drygoods and notion store in Bowersville late Thursday night escaping with men's wearing apparel, valued at between $50 and $75, and twenty-seven pennies from the cash register, it was reported to Sheriff Morris Sharp Friday morning.

Entrance was gained by smashing a pane of glass in a rear window. The store was ransacked and various articles of men's wear, such as shirts, shoes, caps and socks were stolen. Special Deputy Sheriff Dwyer Belden, sent to investigate, reported there were no clues leading to the possible capture of the bandits.

issue an official bulletin of his condition at that time.

Dr. King expressed confidence when he left Ruth's bedside at midnight. His patient was resting easily then and his quiet repose continued through the night.

Although influenza was held responsible for his illness, it was said, that the slugger's huge appetite also contributed to his collapse. He had fried potatoes on the train yesterday morning, along with a hearty breakfast and physicians said that this, in connection with his weakened condition contributed to the collapse in the washroom of the Pullman which resulted in his arriving in New York unconscious.

It still appeared possible today that Ruth might be in the Yankee lineup for the opening game Tuesday. Dr. King said that a man of his power recovered quickly and in his long experience, caring for Ruth, he had seen his quick recoveries many times.

HOTEL GUEST DIES IN IRONTON BLAZE

Ironton, O., April 10.—One man is known to be dead and one other injured as the result of a fire which partially destroyed the O'Brien Hotel here early this morning. The identity of the dead man could not be learned as his roommates, C. H. Turner, of St. Louis and the injured man were all unacquainted, having been given the same room on account of a crowded condition. The dead man was killed when he jumped from a second story window striking his head on the street below.

It is possible that other patrons of the hotel were entrapped on the second floor, as it was rumored that an unknown child also perished in the flames.

GOVERNOR WORRIES OVER KEEPING HIS ERRING SON ACTIVE

Friends Suggest Army or That Boy Be Put To Work at Hard Job

Columbus, O., April 10.—Governor Donahey today is threshing over the problem of what to do to curb the "sporting blood" of Hal, his 19 year old son. He has settled things in his mind.

Hal is either going to work or he is going to school. If to school, it may be a military school where they sometimes curb caperings of ardent youths. And Governor Donahey is determined to devote less time to the duties of state and more to his own family.

This much of his plans he revealed today to International News Service. "Hal is ready to do anything I decide," Governor Donahey said. "He is a good boy at heart. The people of the state need have no fear that I will handle him effectually."

All the plans for Hal's future are the result of his latest escapade—his flight to Columbus with Lillian Vogel, the 15 year old Zanesville girl. The public windup of the affair was written in Muskingum County Juvenile Court when Hal was fined $100 and placed in custody of the court until 21, and the girl was told to shun the boys and get back to her school books.

"I will decide definitely what to do with Hal after talking it over with the folks," the governor said. "He must be kept active. He is either going to school or going to work. I may be a military school and it may not, we haven't decided anything definitely."

One thing apparently is settled. Hal may lose his cherished wish to be appointed to West Point via the National Guard. He had hoped to study at the military academy to fit himself for appointment to the army air service. His plans were recalled by Mrs. Donahey's story of Hal's roadster: "The car is too slow for him," she said. "I guess he wants an airplane."

The governor is convinced the solution of Hal's troubles lies in keeping him eternally active. Some advisers have suggested that he be put at work which would keep him so busy and so tire him during the day that he wouldn't be interested in going out at night. Others have advised an enlistment in the army under some particularly "hard boiled" top sergeant. Still others think the military school the best place for Hal.

Just what Hal think about it is not likely to be known for a time at least. Attempts to reach him at the executive mansion today were futile.

Governor Donahey is firmly convinced of one thing, however; he is going to devote more time to his family.

He didn't say why.

"I have worked on this job as governor harder than I have ever known any governor before me," the governor explained. "I have worked night and day. If it hasn't been a speech somewhere at night, I have been working here at the office. Now a man owes something to his family and I haven't been devoting the time I should to mine. In the future I'm going to give less time to the state and more time to my own family."

HERRIOT EXPLAINS POLICIES IN SENATE

Paris, April 10.—Premier Herriot went before the senate this afternoon and denied that his government had ever exceeded the legal inflation limit of the Bank of France. Herriot sat on the ministers' bench and replied to interpellations by Francois Marsal, finance minister, under Premier Poincare. Herriot yesterday charged the Poincare government with being responsible for the financial chaos which exists in France.

Paris, April 10.—Premier Herriot's political Waterloo may be fought this afternoon when he will appear before the senate at three o'clock and demand a vote of confidence after explaining his policies.

According to forecasts in the lobby of the chamber of deputies, Francois Marsal will interpellate the premier on statements made in the chamber yesterday and former Premier Poincare will speak for the purpose of disproving Herriot's accusations that the present financial crisis is the result of the cabinet's heritage from Poincare.

The former premier will lay the responsibility to the present government's irregularities, it was reported.

INSPECTS SITE

Grafton, April 10.—State Auditor Joseph Tracy personally inspected the 1,000 acre site for the proposed state hospital for the insane on the Grafton farm. Tracy said the water supply is unsatisfactory. He voiced doubt whether the $1,000,000 proposed expenditure ever will be spent except for a more favorable location near Cleveland.

VON HINDENBURG WILL NOT WORK TO RESTORE MONARCHY HE STATES

"Don't Rock the Boat" Will be Policy of War Horse If Elected—Denies Ex-Kaiser Will Influence
His Policies

Hanover, Germany, April 10.—"Don't rock the boat!" That will be the policy of Field Marshal Hindenburg if his candidacy for the German presidency is successful. The reactionary hothouse who expect the veteran soldier to encourage monarchistic or militaristic revival in Germany will be bitterly disappointed.

Although he is personally convinced that monarchy is the best form of government for Germany, Von Hindenburg realizes that any attempt to reestablish it now—or probably for years to come—would mean a bloody civil war. His guiding principle as outlined exclusively to International News Service today,

GIRL COMMITTED TO DELAWARE; MAN HELD ON MANN ACT CHARGE

Alice Lee, 17, Cedarville, ward of the juvenile court here, who was arrested in South Bend, Ind., recently, with Ellison Kent, 29, after they are alleged to have spread a trail of forged checks, was committed to the Girls' Industrial School, Delaware, by Judge S. C. Wright in Juvenile Court Thursday.

The girl was brought here by Mrs. Beatrice McNally, Columbus, of the Child Welfare Department. Kent is being held in South Bend and will face a charge of violating the Mann white slave act for having transported a girl, a minor, from one state to another.

The girl was made a ward of the court three or four years ago after she is said to have been mistreated by her step-father. She was turned over to the Child Welfare Department and that organization placed her in various homes.

She had been in a Cleveland home seven months, during which time there had been no complaint against her. While in Cleveland she met Kent during a street car flirtation and gained permission for him to call at her home. A month later he proposed they leave, and they traveled through Michigan and Indiana, leaving forged checks in their wake, police say. Their arrest in South Bend culminated the trip.

The girl, who was adjudged a delinquent, is the daughter of Mrs. Henry Angel, Cedarville, R. R. 3.

APPROVE TAXATION

will be "peace with the whole world and law order and unity with Germany."

Through his son, Major Oscar Von Hindenburg, the field marshal answered the questions put to him by the correspondent and gave the high spot of his proposed program later amplifying this through his trusted friend, Lieutenant Colonel Von Feldmann who will be his local campaign manager.

"The story that I telegraphed to Doorn (to the former kaiser) for permission to accept the candidacy is a base lie," the old warhorse declared, emphatically. "An equally vicious lie is the assertion that I'm elected the German policy will be dictated from Doorn."

The writer explained to Von Hindenburg the views of the outside world regarding his candidacy and the misgivings expressed in the United States and elsewhere because of fears first that he might attempt restoration of monarchy and second, the possibility of a new war.

"Nothing is more remote from my mind than any attempt whatever to use the presidential office for restoring the monarchy," Von Hindenburg said. "Such an attempt would mean the intensifying of bitter domestic party strife. My highest desire is to do my share to eliminate that strife. This certainly is no time for pushing the question of form of government to the forefront. The German nation has far more serious problems to solve. The trouble with so many among us is that they are breaking their heads over the form of state forgetting the state itself."

As for the fear that his election would mean a new war sooner or later, Von Hindenburg considers it an insult to his common sense and his calm judgment as a soldier. He refused to say more about it other than:

"Do they think I'm a damn fool?"

The field marshal intends to make no campaign speeches or trips.

Little hopes are entertained for his recovery.

DOROTHY ELLINGSON BECOMES PATIENT IN INSANITY HOSPITAL

Will Be On Probation for Month—If Safe She Will Be Tried

Napa, Calif., April 10.—Dorothy Ellingson, broken butterfly, who murdered her mother, today passed from the limelight under which she has writhed in torture for the past three weeks and became a probationary patient in the state hospital for the insane here.

Whether she will remain here or not depends upon the decision arrived at by members of the hospital after they have observed the girl for thirty days.

One month from now Dorothy was expected to face her sanity trial with medical experts as the jury. These experts, members of the hospital staff will decide if in their opinion she is sane. If they find Dorothy sane, there was a possibility that she would be remanded to the custody of Sheriff Thomas Finn of San Francisco and that the district attorney's office would proceed to try her for murder.

Dorothy slept soundly last night, apparently completely worn out by the strain she had undergone in her trial. She was brought to the hospital here last night, arriving at 7:15. She partook of a hearty meal after arriving and was assigned to the probationary cottage, retiring at eight o'clock.

Today Dorothy was to be examined by Dr. J. N. Scanlan, head of the institution. Once more she was to be subjected to the hated tests, which alienists apply. The tests today however were merely for the purpose of classifying her case. She will remain in the probationary cottage for thirty days after which if she again is found insane her case will be definitely graded for treatments and assigned more or less permanently to the section of the hospital in which she will receive treatment.

RIGHT OF PAPERS TO PUBLISH INCOMES TO COME BEFORE COURT

Supreme Court To Hear Arguments
In Test Case Involving
Two Newspapers

Washington, April 10.—The right of newspapers under the 1924 revenue tax law to publish individual income tax returns will be argued before the United States supreme court next week.

Because of the general interest in the case, the court set it ahead of many cases pending on the dockets. The Kansas City Journal-Post, and the Baltimore Post, each of which published a list of individual tax returns were selected by the government for the test.

The lower federal courts sustaining the newspapers held that the publication did not constitute a violation of the law and if it did constitute a violation, the law itself was invalid because it violated the federal constitution.

Each of these points upon which the case was decided, was changed in a brief for the government, submitted to the supreme court by Solicitor General James M. Beck. In this brief it is contended the phrase "available to public inspection" carried in the law, does not impart a right "to print or publish."

The solicitor-general holds that "by inspection, as used in the law, is meant only the right to examine or view and nothing more."

"The necessary inference is that the right to inspect would not carry with it the right to communicate the information so obtained even to congress," said the brief.

RUTH MOST NOTABLE CONTRADICTION OF HEALTH SAYS WALSH

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, April 10—George H. Ruth, the poor, but honest ball player, lies ill on his cot in a local hospital today not as the greatest slugger of all time, but as one of the most notable contradictions the human race has known. His illness has been diagnosed as "a slight attack of the flu," yet what would be an ordinary illness for an ordinary man, has caused this individual, so strong that he can hit a ball almost further than the eye can reach, to give a series of exhibition dives throughout the surrounding country.

Nature has endowed Ruth with the torso of a piano mover and the firm wiry legs of an athletic dancer. It has given him a pair of arms of unusual strength, arms that can swing a fifty six ounce bat, the heaviest any player ever used, as fast as the ordinary man would wave a gymnasium wand. Yet nature has seemingly left its job undone. It has created a human mountain that can be blown over by a zephyr.

Ruth has been baseball's official patient ever since his symptoms became a subject for national concern—tonsils removed; arm disabled by a carbuncle; several attacks of influenza, etc.

The present seizure is so light, according to attending physicians, that he may be able to play in the opening game on Tuesday.

Show me the man who must be pushed on a stretcher through a Pullman window on Thursday, yet may be out on the ball field the following Tuesday and I'll show you the world's greatest contradiction. That is Ruth to the letter. He can hit a baseball somewhere between 500 and 600 feet but a fever of 101 breaks him like the stalk of a hothouse lily. And just as remarkable is the fact that he recovers so rapidly. He is authority for the statement that he almost died of the "flu" in Hot Springs several years ago but his confinement at that time lasted about three days, if that.

What ails, then, his great bulk? None.

I saw Ruth come charging into the plate in one of the 1923 world series games and run headon at Frank Snyder, who had braced himself for the impact. Being motionless, the burden of proof was all on Snyder. He seemed due to be ironed out flat. But he wasn't. Ruth crashed into him and bounded blithely away to bring up on his shoulder blades fifteen feet away. Snyder didn't even recoil from the shock. As far as he was concerned, there wasn't any.

SCHOOL CHILDREN SEE SAFETY FIRST MOVING PICTURES

Children of four more Xenia schools were given an opportunity to see accident prevention pictures at the Orpheum Theatre Thursday and Friday afternoon, in accordance with the "Educational and Safety" campaign being sponsored by officials of the Greene County Auto Club.

Pupils of Orient Hill, Spring Hill, and Opportunity Schools were conducted to the theatre Thursday, to witness the seven reels of motion pictures showing various causes and preventions of common accidents to both motorists and pedestrians.

Children of McKinley School saw the pictures Friday afternoon. Monday morning the pictures will be placed on the screen for the benefit of pupils of East High School at the school building. The pictures will be shown to students of Central High School Monday afternoon at assembly. Officials of the Auto Club are trying to educate the public as well as children in accident prevention, in the belief that Ohio and Greene County will be a touring ground for motorists during the summer months.

DIVISION B TEAM OF ANTIOCH IS WINNER OVER CEDARVILLE 9

The Division B baseball team of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, closed its season Thursday by defeating Cedarville College by a score of 12 to 7 on the Antioch diamond, in a game that was featured by the heavy hitting of both nines.

Weeping clouds forced a halt to the game in the seventh inning when the diamond became too soaked for further play. Division B team engaged in three contests winning twice and losing once.

Victories were recorded over Cedarville and Wilmington while only Dayton University forced Antioch to lower its colors.

The only other feature of the Antioch-Cedarville game was the numerous misplays in the field, which accounted for several runs.

Coach Earl Prugh will start next week drilling his Division A nine, which plays its opening game with Wilberforce University at Yellow Springs, May 4.

Batteries for the Cedarville-Antioch game were: Cedarville—Turner, Arthur and Adair; Antioch—Dawson, MacLean and Hiller.

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

DON'T INVEST IN A SMILE

When buying stocks and bonds do not pay out your money for a smiling face and a glib line of talk. The smiling face is a tremendous asset in selling anything. Unfortunately, one of the classes which has learned this best is the class which sells "worthless securities." When a man tries to sell you any security, don't buy his smiles or his selling talk. Make him produce facts, not promises.

After he has produced his "facts" go to our banker and talk the matter over with him. When you are putting money into securities be as much of a skeptic and as much of a pessimist as you know how to be. This will partially protect you from the "smiling salesman" and it will save you a lot of money and regrets.

A SANCTUARY FOR BIRDS

AS a sanctuary for birds, Emlen Roosevelt has given the Audubon association a twelve acre tract of growing timber and underbrush adjoining the graveyard at Oyster Bay wherein is buried the remains of Theodore Roosevelt. This gracious act not only preserves an American shrine from the degradation of unfit surroundings, but it also makes for the dead the sort of memorial he would have liked best. He was a lover of birds and an eager student of their habits and the establishment of national reserves where they could multiply and fill the air with joyous song, unharmed by man or beast, was close to his heart. This particular territory is already a place of habitation for birds of many species. In the grounds of Sagamore Hill Roosevelt himself recorded a long list of them. The wood thrushes, rather shy birds as a rule, "nest around our house," he once wrote. There too came orioles, robins, catbirds, kingbirds, song sparrows and many others. Indeed the complete list comes near to including almost every common variety as well as some less common, residents or migrants. The vireos, the flycatchers, the warblers, the chewink, the redwing — what a concord of sweet sounds will always be heard by visitors to the place he loved so well!

So long as they are undisturbed and protected from their enemies, of which the cat is the worst, the birds will build close to the homes of men. It is good to know that they will not be driven from the haunts to which the great man who was so close to nature welcomed them.

COURTESY COSTS BUT LITTLE

WHAT has become of the courteous person, known in bygone days of chivalry, as gentle—gentlemen and gentlewomen? A well known writer recently lamented the decline of courtesy and averred that the individual has become so immersed in his own affairs as to have no thought for the rights of others. While there is certain ground for complaint it is not quite so bad as portrayed. It is contended that men no longer defer to women in public conveyances and that even mothers carrying babies are often forced to stand while men occupy seats. There may be differences of attitude in various parts of the country but observation here in the good old state of Ohio convinces us that there is still the old-time consideration for the aged, the infirm and especially for women with babies in their arms.

However it must be admitted that it is not always the younger and more vigorous men who are the readiest to yield their seats to those to whom standing would seem a hardship. Often those who tender their seats are of an age that might seem to entitle them to remain seated even though women stand. There is another phase however which probably has had much to do with the change of attitude. Women are less inclined than in a former day to await the courtesy of men. Perhaps, as they have become more and more devoted to business pursuits, to the independent spirit of equal suffrage, to club work and politics, they are more vigilant in looking out for themselves. They are competing with men in everything else so why not compete with him for a seat in a public conveyance? Is the seeming attitude of the woman of today. Thus they become aggressive and the trait is evidently carried by them outside of business. As a rule women are fully as energetic in securing vantage ground anywhere as are men.

It remains true, though, that courtesy costs but little and it does smoothe personal contact. One who pushes and shoves ahead of the line may feel that that is the way to succeed, but it will be at the expense of dark looks and uncomplimentary remarks. One who retains at all times a thought for others certainly need not suffer much delay while the satisfaction of having acted the gentle part will more than compensate for any inconvenience sustained.

JUST FOLKS

Edgar A. Guest

OUT OF STRUGGLE

Why do you fancy God made Him poor instead of filling His purse with gold?
Why was He born to a carpenter instead of a prince of the royal fold?
God could have given him a crown to wear, could have spared him hunger and thirst and pain.
But God was shaping a soul in Him, and a soul must suffer the crown to gain.

Life is not as the rich believe. Life is learned by the poor and meek. There is more to see than the pleasant vales, and the road is long to the mountain peak.
And had God sent Him to luxury, had He made Him a prince as He could have done,
Some Herold on earth would have ruined Him and seared the soul of His only Son.

I fancy God purposely made Him poor and purposely sent Him to learn a trade,
Sent Him to the live as the many live, for out of struggle the man is made;
And He read men's hearts and He read their minds and He dwelt with them and His spirit grew,
But wealth would have stifled the soul of Him, as Herod himself once tried to do.

So I write these lines for my boy to read: I would rather you walk with the poor of earth,
I would rather you go to your task by day and learn by test what your faith is worth.
Work with the humble, the good, the strong, be you dauntless and unafraid,
Beware the whispers of idle men, it is out of struggle a man is made.

Serious operation avoided

Resinol healed stubborn sore

Elyria, Ohio, March 1:—"I feel it my duty and pleasure to thank you for the wonderful cure your Resinol gave me. I had a very serious operation on my back for a cancer, but it was so near the base of the brain that we feared an operation. I had found Resinol Ointment so effective for cuts, burns and similar things that I induced my husband to try that. After using only two jars of Resinol, the sore entirely healed—every trace of it has disappeared. Resinol certainly was a God-send to us!" (Signed) Mrs. E. E. Kennedy, 243 E. 8th St.

At all times of the year, but especially in the spring when our system is adjusting itself to the change in temperature, we should have an abundance of salads, greens, fruits and fresh vegetables in our daily meals. Spinach, rhubarb, lettuce, dandelion greens celery, and all other crisp fresh dishes of this nature, contain mineral salts and vitamins, necessary to our health. As I have explained many times before in this column, fruits and greens have an alkaline content which neutralizes the acids formed by meats and starchy foods.

You will notice that my menus call for plenty of salads and that fruit desserts predominate. But that does not mean that you cannot add still more fresh vegetables and fruits to them if you wish. You cannot eat too many of the vitamine foods.

Every housewife should be able to build a well-balanced menu for herself. It is not too great a task for her to attempt. Any woman can do it if she keeps in mind that a well-balanced meal consists of one tenth per cent protein, one fifteenth or one twentieth fat, and the rest starches and sugars (which are called "carbohydrates"). Vitamins should also be present in fruits and greens and one "stringy"

"Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has entirely relieved me of constipation," writes grateful father

The ravages of constipation can be promptly stopped. Here is signed evidence.

Mr. Hunt's case is typical of thousands of others who have found habit-forming pills and drugs of no avail in seeking permanent relief from constipation. Read this interesting letter:

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has entirely relieved me of constipation. Before I started using ALL-BRAN I was a regular taker of pills—always getting something to bring relief. Now I never touch them. I fully recommend it to anyone to relieve constipation as you advertise on the package. My daughter also eats ALL-BRAN and I can see her health improve.

Today's Talks

CHAINED

None of us truly and exactly knows freedom. And the more that we record on our brain the intelligence of the world, the less free we are. The opposite should be the result. Increased knowledge should give increased freedom. And freedom should lead a man everywhere. And he should grow happier and happier and stronger and stronger and stronger—but as things are he fights for his happiness, and grows strong through sacrifices and privation. Freedom should always enlarge a man. But how tied we are. We chafe in chains.

Chains of convention, chains of habit, chains of false notions, chains of worthless associations. They keep us where we are.

As I awoke this morning I heard the intermingling notes from many birds, the nightingale and then the mocking bird, and notes that I could not guess, but all sweetening into a chorus of beauty that whispered the essence of freedom into my heart.

I thought how free the life of a bird—hunting its sunshine where it will and always so happy under every circumstance.

I got up and leaned out of the window that I might study and drink in every touch of beauty that each throat poured out into the tropic air. I saw no chains, visible or invisible tied to the delicate legs of these songsters of the morning.

It does seem that the nearer we get to the heart and breath of Nature the more nearly we live the life we were meant to live free from chains. With a reaching mind that absorbs every floating fragrance of beauty.

But when you are chained you can only enjoy the fleeting pleasures of happiness. Like a flash they pass, leaving you regretful, alone and helpless.

He who is freest is always most strong. Because he is not hampered for service, but every ready.

BEAUTIFUL SUMMER COTTAGE "THE LITTLE MIAMI"

WE ARE OFFERING AT PUBLIC AUCTION ON

Wednesday, April 22, 1925

At 2 p. m.

a summer cottage "THE LITTLE MIAMI" including a good-sized lot, located on the banks of the Little Miami River and Massie's Creek on what is known as the Old Town Mill Site, on the Springfield and Xenia new paved highway, about 3 1-2 miles north of Xenia, 15 miles south of Springfield and 16 miles east of Dayton. Also along the D. S. & X. S. Traction Line at the Old Town Mill stop.

This cottage and surroundings are electric lighted, and beautifully set in a "U" shaped clump of trees, almost entirely surrounded by water, with the Xenia City Waterworks Sunken Flower Garden to the front.

This is an ideal spot to spend your summer, your vacation, or your idle hours and enjoy Nature's splendors.

This will not only make you a nice place to spend your idle hours, but a good investment, as you can easily rent it to great advantage when you are not using it yourself.

This cottage is a good buy from a speculative standpoint as there is a move on foot right now to develop these grounds into a fine summer resort, with beautiful drives, rivers, creeks, lagoons, fountains, dining halls, hotels, barbecues, filling stations, dance pavilion, bathing beaches, boating and fishing and as this develops the summer cottages will increase in value accordingly.

Come and look over this cottage before the sale and make up your mind to buy a cottage and help develop these grounds into a beautiful summer resort.

EYELESS FISH ARE FOUND DEEP UNDER SAN ANTONIO, TEX.

San Antonio, Texas, April 10—The theory that a subterranean lake exists under San Antonio, far beneath the level of the sea is being investigated by scientists following the discovery of eyeless fish in water pumped from a 1,500-foot artesian well at a local packing plant.

San Antonio is only 650 feet above the level of the sea, and the subterranean lake is believed to be 850 feet below the surface of the ocean.

The fish removed from the well are white and resemble catfish. Their fins are powerful and well developed. Small bumps or "pimples" appear over the spots where their eyes should be, indicating, it is said, that the specimen found are descended from normal fish—the eyes disappearing because darkness in their underground lake made sight organs useless.

Scientists are wondering if the discovery supports the geological theory that the Gulf of Mexico once covered the southern portion of the North American continent. This theory would aid in explaining how the fish were transferred to the underground waters, it is said.

R. C. Hollingsworth, of the United States Public Health Service, is conducting research work in an attempt to determine their origin. He has studied "blind" fish taken from the Mammoth Cave in Kentucky, and says the two species are similar.

"It proves," he says, "that there is a big lake in a cave far beneath the ground. The well evidently pierces the cave and leads into the lake. When water is pumped to the surface the fish are pumped up with it."

The specimens found thus far are about six inches in length. Larger ones unable to pass through the wellpipes are believed to exist.

It is estimated the pressure beneath the surface under which the fish live is 779 pounds to the square inch. The specimen expand—in some cases burst—and die upon being brought into contact with the lighter pressure above ground. Some however have lived several minutes on the surface.

The underground lake is thought to be narrow, as other artesian wells of the same depth in other parts of San Antonio have brought up no fish.

Specimens are to be sent to eastern universities to be studied.

BARN IS BURNED

Ashland, Ohio, April 10—A grass fire, believed to have started from some burning cigarette stub thrown from a passing auto, destroyed a barn half a mile west of Ashland last night. Damage was estimated at $5,000.

XENIA MAN NAMED IN EQUITY SUIT

Suit for equitable relief has been instituted in Clinton County Common Pleas Court by W. H. Wiltsee and Tabitha A. Wiltsee, versus the Albert Goldberg Realty Company of Cincinnati; Mr. Goldberg Joseph T. Russell, M. E. Painter, Xenia, R. D. Painter and John Jones.

The plaintiffs ask that the court order cancellation of a promissory note for $250 given them by the defendants in confirmation of a real estate trade which failed to materialize. They aver this note was delivered to M. E. aPainter, March 13, 1925, to be due four months after date.

In a lengthy petition the plaintiffs recite a series of deceptions alleged to have been practiced upon them by the defendants.

GOES TO LONDON

Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy went to London, O., Friday to preside on the bench in the case of the state of Ohio against M. F. Long, charged with stealing chickens. In the previous trial, the defendant was found guilty, but the court granted a new trial because of newly discovered evidence. Judge Gowdy was on the London bench when the motion for a new trial was allowed.

FREIGHT TRAINS TO HAVE NAMES JUST AS PULMAN CARS NOW

Fast through freight trains on the Pennsylvania Railroad are going to be designated by names instead of numbers in the future.

This will be the first time in American railway history that freight trains have been officially named. Hitherto they have usually been known by symbols or numbers, such as "PH 10," "CMB," "LM 4," etc., to identify them for operating purposes.

The new names which have been chosen are intended to appeal to the imagination. They typify speed and certainty; in some cases they have historic significance, and in others are related to the character of service which the train performs. Altogether twenty-five regularly operated through trains have thus far been named.

In picking the names the old designation "Star Union Line" has been revived and will be borne by the fast freight to Chicago from Atlantic Seaboard points. This will perpetuate the name of the first through fast freight line ever operated between the East and West, and the first to carry refrigerator cars. It was for many years a famous trade name of the Pennsylvania Railroad System, but was abolished during war control of the railroads.

Another name of interest is "The Gas Wagon," selected for the east-bound train from Detroit to seaboard, which largely carries automobile freight. "The Standard," from Pittsburgh to Toledo, will call to mind the Pennsylvania's motto, "The Standard Railroad of the World." Other names have their own individual meanings.

The complete list follows: "The Ironmaster," from Pittsburgh to New York Harbor, carrying all freight and making third morning delivery—Symbol BG 12.

"The Accelerator," from Toledo to Pittsburgh, carrying all freight and making second morning delivery—Symbol WV 4.

"The Bison," from Buffalo to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying all freight making second morning delivery—Symbol BF 4.

"The Standard," from Pittsburgh to Toledo, carrying all freight and making second morning delivery—Symbol WV 3.

"The Blue Goose," from Atlantic Seaboard points to Buffalo, carrying all freight and making second morning delivery—Symbol BF 5.

"The Comet," from Atlantic Seaboard points to St. Louis, carrying all freight and making fifth morning delivery—Symbol VL 1.

"Uncle Sam," from St. Louis to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying perishable freight and making third morning delivery—Symbol VL 2.

"The Greyhound," from St. Louis to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying stock and making third morning delivery—Symbol Ph 10.

"The Eclipse," from St. Louis to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying merchandise and making fifth morning delivery—Symbol VL 4.

"The Yankee," from New England and Long Island points to Chicago, carrying all freight and making fourth morning delivery—Symbol NL 1.

Gas Mask Murder

ALEXANDER BUCHANAN

One of the strangest murders in the annals of American crime occurred at Waverly, Mass., when Alexander Buchanan, former Canadian soldier, was taken into the cellar of an unused building of the McLean Hospital, where a war time gas mask was tied over his face and he was chloroformed to death. The police believe he was slain by war time "buddies."

"Star Union Line," from Atlantic Seaboard points to Chicago, carrying all freight and making fourth morning delivery—Symbol PF 1.

"Man O'War," from Chicago to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying stock and making third morning delivery—Symbol FW 8.

"The Packer," from Chicago to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying perishable freight and making third morning delivery—Symbol CMB.

"The Mercury," from Chicago to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying merchandise and making fourth morning delivery—Symbol PF 2.

"The Arrow," from Atlantic Seaboard points to Detroit, carrying all freight and making fourth morning delivery—Symbol ED 1.

"The Gas Wagon," from Detroit to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying automobiles and all freight and making third morning delivery—Symbol ED 2.

"The Hummer," from Pittsburgh to St. Louis, carrying all freight and making third morning delivery—Symbol PH 5.

"Blue Streak," from Atlantic Seaboard points to Indianapolis, carrying all freight and making fourth morning delivery—Symbol IN 1.

"The Bullet," from Indianapolis to "The Eagle," from Cleveland to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying all freight and making third morning delivery—Symbol CE 2.

"The Meteor," from Atlantic Seaboard points to Cleveland, carrying all freight and making third morning delivery—Symbol CP 1.

It is expected that the names of the fast freights will become as well known, both to the public and to the employees of the railroad, as have the names of the famous long distance passenger trains, such as "The Broadway Limited," "The Congressional Limited," "The Pennsylvania Limited," "The St. Louisan," "The New Yorker," etc.

MOVED TO WORK

Athens, April 10—Harrison Brooks is considering hauling his hens about in a wagon every day. The other day, when he moved to Athens, he put his eleven hens in a coop. They rattled into the city, cackling furiously. When he took them out of the coop he found that eight of them had laid eggs.

LOAD TOO HEAVY

Bucyrus April 10—Sheriff Ulmer, using a "lodometer," stopped a truck at Chatfield, measured the load and found it weighed 13 1-2 tons. Mayor Topper at Chatfield fined the truck driver $25 and costs. The load limit on country pike roads is 7 1-2 tons and on state roads, 10 tons.

FINED ON CHARGE
George Kormas, proprietor of a shop, in Osborn, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to ten days in the County Jail by Judge S. C. Wright on a charge of running a game of chance in Probate Court Thursday afternoon. He pleaded guilty. The jail sentence was suspended on condition that he pay the fine and costs. Kormas was arrested by Sheriff Morris Sharp, on a warrant sworn out by Prosecuting Attorney J. Carl Marshall. He was accused of operating punch boards.

Clears Complexion

"Oh! how clear and beautiful your complexion is today, my dear!"

THERE is a certain joy—a certain pride—in knowing you are admired, whether it be from father, brother, husband or sweetheart! And back of that joy is the satisfaction of knowing all is well.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps, wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness which is not theirs. But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that craved for attractiveness—that clear skin—that beauty. A clear skin—is the barometer of one's condition. A healthy skin radiates beauty. Pure, clean blood means a clear skin.

S.S.S. is waiting to help you. It will rid your blood of its impurities and give you that clear complexion. Since 1826 S.S.S. has been ridding people of blood impurities, from pimples, from blackheads, boils, eczema and from rheumatism, too. Because S.S.S. is made from fresh herbs and barks, it may be taken with perfect safety. Try it yourself. You will not only look better, but you will feel better, too.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in the U.S. The larger size is more economical.

A Girl of The Limberlost

Gene Stratton Porters own production of her famous novel

With Gertrude Ohnstead, Gloria Grey, Cullen Landis, Raymond McKee, Ruth Stonehouse, Baby Pat O'Malley

Remember the story by Gene Stratton-Porter, "A Girl of the Limberlost." The story of a girl of the Michigan woods; a buoyant, lovable type of self-reliant American. Her philosophy is one of love and kindness towards all things; her hope is never dimmed. And by the sheer beauty of her soul, and the purity of her vision, she wins from barren and unpromising surroundings those rewards of high courage. You have never forgotten the story and you'll never forget the photoplay.

Caldwell & Taylor's Original Benzol Gas Is Not A Dope, But A Natural Refined Product

It will give you 25 per cent more Mileage—25 per cent more Power—No hard Carbon and positively no Motor Knock. It will also give you a quicker start and a smoother running motor than any high test gasoline. The above statements are facts, which make Caldwell & Taylor's Original Benzol Gas the most economical motor fuel known today. There are imitations and substitutes on the market but do not buy these for your motor's sake, as the smallest amount of the cheapest kind of Benzol can be blended with gasoline and called and sold as Benzol Gas. None genuine but Caldwell & Taylor's Original. The pleasure of taking the hills in high without that knock makes a Benzol user a Benzol booster. Always lean your carburetor as much as it will stand; it cools your motor and increases your mileage. Listen to everybody, believe no one, but try it yourself and be convinced. Call and see us, we want to tell you more about it.

With outward decking of thy house of clay,
Forget to give Him thanks, who won for thee

AN EASTER THOUGHT

Easter Day brings a vision to our mind which reaches to the far distant shores of eternity. It is the Day when our immortality is confirmed and our faith takes new hold on the Eternal Power of Christ's resurrection. Christ is risen, so we too can conquer the bands of death and live with Him thru-out eternity. Some one exclaimed, "If we could only feel the exhilaration of the Easter feeling, the tenderness of the Easter Message! Day by Day!" But surely we have been gripped by the Easter message, we feel its strength each swift winged day. Frequently we think of the resurrection of that last day and the life to come through Jesus Christ. The words fall soothingly upon our ears; for they echo our faith, they breathe the message of Easter. Not only therefore, is every Sunday Easter Sunday, but every day is brightened by the brilliance of the Easter Hope, Immortality.
"The Easter Lilies, pure and white!
Make Thou our hearts, O Lord of Light!
Like Easter lilies, let them be
Sweet Chalice of love to Thee!"

MILDRED DICKERSON AWARDED $15,000 IN LARGE DAMAGE SUIT

After deliberating three and one-half hours, a jury in Common Pleas Court awarded Mildred Dickerson $15,000 against the village of Osborn and the Miami Conservancy District Thursday night. A unanimous verdict favoring the plaintiff was returned by the jury at 8:20 o'clock.

Miss Dickerson brought suit against the conservancy district and Osborn for $50,000 damages growing out of injuries she claimed to have sustained when she accidentally stepped into a hole in the sidewalk in the village of Osborn in 1920.

An attempt will be made by attorneys for the conservancy district to carry the case to a higher court, according to Attorney Harry D. Smith, Xenia counsel for the district, who said a motion for a new trial would be filed in Common Pleas court Friday.

The conservancy district held during the trial that it could not be sued for damages in Greene County since the district was organized in Montgomery County and therefore suit must be brought in the latter county separately.

However, Judge R. L. Gowdy ruled in the pleadings, demurrers, and motions that the district was jointly liable with the village of Osborn to suit in the county, where the hole was located. It is on this point that the district will appeal the case, according to Attorney Smith.

The case went to the jury at 4:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon after arguments of attorneys had been completed. Finding that no decision could be reached at 6:30 p. m., the court allowed the jurors to be released. They were again locked up at 7:15 p. m., reaching a verdict an hour and fifteen minutes later.

Miss Dickerson charged in her suit for damages, that the absence of adequate lighting facilities caused her to accidentally step into a hole in the walk and fall against a protruding lead pipe, resulting in injuries from which she has failed to recover.

Conflicting medical testimony was the feature of the last day of the trial. Physicians for the plaintiff testified her injuries were sustained at the time of the accident. Defense medical testimony, based on physical examination of Miss Dickerson, attributed her present condition to suggestive neurosis, a nervous disease and that her present state was congenital.

Attorney H. D. Smith, Xenia, Judge T. B. Brown, and A. S. Frank of Dayton, were attorneys for the conservancy district. M. D. Rice acted for Osborn; Attorneys W. L. Miller, J. A. Finney, Xenia and F. B. Johnson of Indianapolis were counsel for the plaintiff.

BELLBROOK

About thirty young people had a winter feast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis on Tuesday night, the occasion being in honor of their daughter, Miss Gladys Davis.

Our local Ford agent, J. L. Myers, reports the sale of about 87 machines during the past year.

Hon. George H. Thorne, of Columbus, spent Saturday and Sunday with his Bellbrook friends.

The Charles Lutz place, formerly owned by Solomon Sidenstricker has been purchased by Lee C. Klinger and Fred Poell of Dayton.

Ray Peterson and friends from Dayton, were out last week depopulating the Little Miami and Big Sugar creeks of their inhabitants.

Mayor Roy Black to date has made the best showing of any of the local fishermen, having captured 11 large black suckers at one fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Spahr, Walter Spahr and son Paul, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glosser and daughter Hattie.

The Boys Club of Bellbrook and Sugar Creek Township, were royally entertained by the Rev. Latham of the Presbyterian Church, at the Dayton Y. M. C. A., last Thursday night. All the sports known to the institution were indulged in by the happy bunch, made up of Harry Bollinger, Cramer Crowl, George Ryne, Scott Hopkins, Wayne Hopkins, Thel Hopkins, Wayne Black, John Black, Philip Black, Roy Black, Ralph Edgington, Richard Edgington, Knisley Smith.

The sick of the neighborhood, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Berryhill, Mrs. Emeline Stuck, B. E. Thomas, Mrs. Nettie Wilson, Abraham Davis, Alpha Stephens, W. H. Sidenstricker and Glen Hess are reported better.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Myers, and Mr. Myers father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Plummer, entertained relatives from Dayton Sunday.

Sixteen little girl friends of Wanda Jeanne Hess assembled at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hess, of North Main Street, last Sunday, the occasion being the fifth birthday anniversary of their little friends. When dinner was announced there dawned on their visions five lighted candles which adorned a large cake set high in the center of the table. The little hostess received many pretty and useful gifts. Those present to enjoy the good things set before them by Mr. and Mrs. Hess were Helen Marie Smith, Betty Jane Hurley, Genevieve Stephens, Laura Louise Multhup, Betty Jane Keiter, Wilma Smith, Lucy Mae Ryne, Anna Bohns, Virginia Black, Virginia Lackey, Mary Ann Mundabaugh, Elizabeth Penewit, Ethel Edgington, Mr. and Mrs. A. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Austin received a telegram Saturday from George W. Miller of Los Angeles, Cal., announcing the death in that city of their son Arthur Lee Austin, who died on that day following a surgical operation. Mr. Austin was a native of Bellbrook. He was 59 years of age. Early in life he chose the occupation of a drygoods salesman, and began as a clerk in his father's store in the village. The family moved to Dayton in the late 70's and the young man found employment in the Lambert-Clark store at that place, where he was highly esteemed by his employers, who regarded him as one of the leading salesmen of the city. After a long period of service in which he built up a reputation such as few salesmen acquire, he moved to Los Angeles, Cal., where he continued his calling for over thirteen years, during which time he had no superiors and few equals as a salesman. He leaves to mourn their loss, his wife, Mrs. Nellie Austin, his aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Austin, one brother, Curtis Austin of Dayton and one sister, Mrs. Prudence Fiorini, now living in Milan, Italy. Burial was made in Los Angeles. Mr. Austin was a highly accomplished Christian gentleman with a feeling for others that was humane in the extreme.

A number of friends of Lillian Johnson arranged a surprise on her which took place at her home on S. Main Street, Monday evening, March 31. After refreshments were served, the evening was spent in various social ways. Those present were Edna Hopkins, Stella Hopkins, Myrtle Dougherty, Clara Stephens, Cora Dergott, Gladys Davis, Alice Ryne, Ruth Kinder, Hattie Glosser, Dora Avey, Hally Holland, Emma Smith, Louise Berryhill, Katherine Gibson, Trilby Henderson, John Hunt, Richard Edgington, James Burton, Robert Curtis, Herman Saylor, James Miller, Clyde Gibbons, Raymond Miller, Clifford Davis, Carroll Berryhill, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson and son.

FAIRIES ARE LIVING AGAIN IN THE KNOW YOUR SCHOOLS PLAYS

Patrons of the "Know Your Schools" program at Central High School are being carried back to Peter Pan days and their faith in the existence of fairies is being revived. Dainty little misses and small boys are enacting the roles of fairy creatures and the children's love of "play-acting" is being satisfied in the group of fantastic playlets included in the "Know Your Schools" programs.

The spirit of fairies predominated the entire program presented at Jean B. Elwell Auditorium, Thursday evening by pupils of McKinley School.

Grades one, two and three presented "Grandmother's Garden," a beautiful little fantasy, the work of Miss Winifred Savage, former teacher in the Xenia Schools and now teaching in East Cleveland.

The characters were: "Little Girl," Betty Jane Pavey; "Elf Leader," Melvin Diamond; "Dandelions," Ruby Manor and Dorothy McCoy; "Violets," Evelyn Quinn and Virginia Kinsey; "Daisies," Betty Baldwin and Suzanne Guyton; "Tulips," Mae Davis and Adrienne Dangas; "Snowballs," Annis Hunt and Martha Lampert; "Roses," Lucille Thoroman and Georgetta Harvey. Elves, caterpillars, birds, grasshoppers, butterflies and bees made up the background of the play.

The second part of the program was "Midsummer Eve," a musical fairy play, the first scene of which was laid in a wood at night. Frances Bryson took the part of "Dorothy," and the boys and girls of grade four were will-o'-wisps, with Helen Mackrodt the first will-o'-wisp and Charles Adair the second.

The second scene was at the court of the Fairy Queen. The characters were: "Herald," Olin Waltz; "Queen," Juanita McPherson; "Arbutus," Dorothy Neeld; "Innocence," Martha Ann Baughn; "Flowers," girls of the fourth grade; "Green Elves," boys of the fifth grade; "Spirit Of Dawn," Jane Harner.

The girls of the fifth grade sang a pretty "flower song," followed by a drill by the girls of grades four, five and six. The boys of the fourth grade sang an elf song and the boys of grades four, five and six gave an elf drill.

The last of the "Know Your Schools" program will be given Friday evening, when the pupils of Central First Grade will present, "Old Fashioned Garden," and the Central Junior High School will take part in "The Quest of Youth."

Has Smith Solved Outfield Problem of Reds This Year?

From alt outward appearances, it begins to look as if Elmer J. Smith will solve the Cincinnati Reds' outfield problem this year.

Duplicating his performance of last Saturday, Smith cracked out two four-base clouts, besides a double, accounted for five of his teams' nine runs, and practically single-handed enabled the Reds to win from Nashville, 9 to 6, Wednesday. Last Saturday Elmer made two circuit smashes in one inning and followed up Tuesday with another home run.

Ever since the release of Pat Duncan and George Burns, veteran and regular gardeners, Manager Jack Hendricks was faced with the apparent fact that the outfield was dismantled. Roush and Walker were the only other regulars and Rube Bressler, the other substitute outfielder, had to be made into a first sacker to fill the shoes of Jake Daubert, deceased field captain.

This left but one man, Bohne, who might take his place regularly in the field. However, Bohne is not an outfielder, but is more at home in the infield.

Another new prospect, Zitzmann, is showing to advantage in the garden,

SMALLPOX RAGES

Barnesville, April 10 - Twenty cases of small pox were reported in this vicinity by Dr. F. R. Dow, Belmont County health commissioner. Most of the cases, it was stated, were in the district between here and Bailey's Mills, a suburb. The cases were mild forms of the disease.

BALD EAGLE APPEARS

Amesville, April 10-A third bald eagle has appeared in this neighborhood and, as far as known, these are the only birds of this family in this section of Ohio. A pair of bald eagles has nested on the J. W. Kierulff farm near here for the past three years. It is believed that the arrival of the third eagle means another pair will start to build here.

BOY SCOUTS WILL COUNT TRAFFIC AT POINTS IN COUNTY

Scoutmaster R. H. Kingsbury announced Thursday that in co-operation with the United States Bureau of Public Roads, and the Ohio Division of Highways, twenty-eight Xenia Boy Scouts will make a traffic count at designated points in the county Monday, April 13. The highway division is undertaking a comprehensive survey of traffic over the entire road system of Ohio.

The highway department desires to make a traffic count at 800 or more places in the state, three times, namely, one day each in April, June and August, hence the resultant call for voluntary assistance.

The Boy Scouts of America volunteered to make the traffic count for the state department, beginning April 13, the first date. The local scouts will be taken to the various points in the county Monday morning and returned by officials of the Greene County Auto Club who will provide transportation, in the evening.

CARROLL-BINDER CO. ADOPTS CALDWELL & TAYLOR BENZOL GAS

After months of investigation on the merits of different motor fuels the Carroll-Binder Co. has at last decided that Caldwell & Taylor's Benzol gas is the best gas for summer driving, as well as in winter. Since excessive heat has a tendency to break down motor oil and retard proper lubrication the use of a cool running fuel has been advised by scientific investigators during the summer months. In tests made at the Ohio State University, temperatures of the crankcase, oil and radiator taken while the motor was under full load, prove conclusively that Caldwell and Taylor's Benzol Gas runs cooler in a motor, either high or low test gasoline.

Their tests also proved that more mileage was obtained from this fuel than other fuel, and the only change needed on your car is to adjust to a thinner mixture, which means the use of less gas.

Motor knocks, it is claimed will be entirely eliminated by the use of Caldwell and Taylor's Benzol Gas.

Benzol gas is of such high quality that it can be used for cleaning purposes without danger of leaving a grease spot. It also has proven the right sort of fuel for lamps and stoves as it is free from smoke.

Benzol gas is used in all flying machines because of its dependability.

GRID PRACTICE FOR XENIA A. C. PLAYERS

With the expectation of placing a team on the gridiron next year, members of the Xenia Athletic Club plan to start spring football practice. A majority of the members of the club are out for positions on next year's team, and the management expects to put an eleven on the field next year averaging about 190 pounds.

ORCHESTRA TO PLAY AT FIREMEN SHOW

The Black Cat orchestra of Dayton, composed entirely of women musicians. Has been engaged by the Fire Department to furnish extra entertainment during the firemen's benefit shows at the Orpheum Theater April 16 and 17. The orchestra will play only at the night shows.

The advance ticket sale is exceeding expectations, according to members of the department and full houses at each show are practically assured. "The Code of the Wilderness" is the feature picture. Adult tickets may be purchased from firemen for 25 cents while school children may obtain the admittance slips for 10 cents.

Funds derived from the shows will be used to purchase new uniforms for members of the department.

LABORERS GET PAY INCREASE IN NEW ORDINANCE PASSED

A new ordinance, regulating the labor pay of employees of the city, was passed by the City Commission in regular session Thursday night. A former ordinance allowed employees of the city departments thirty cents an hour. Laboring men are now allowed from thirty to fifty cents an hour, according to the terms of the new ordinance.

Only regular business was transacted during the remainder of the session.

BOX CARS BURN

MICHAEL'S MARRIAGE

By MICHAEL

CHAPTER XII

The lawyer arrived promptly at eight o'clock. Thurber was a small, lean individual in his sixties, weak in expression, who was the Menlow family lawyer because Michael's father, himself a man of slight physique, disliked being overruled by the usual ponderous voice and bearing of the successful barrister.

"Good evening, Michael. I hope you are well," Mr. Thurber began in his thin voice.

Michael uttered the conventional answer and offered the lawyer a chair. They got down to business immediately. Michael suspected that Sally was listening from some hidden point of vantage, and had an impulse to call out, "Quit snooping, Sally!" but contented himself with glancing searchingly and severely in the direction of all the places she might be concealed.

"Your mother's will is to be probated in the morning. I called this evening to allow you to hear the provisions. I suppose you already know in a general way what they are."

Michael nodded.

The lawyer carefully adjusted his glasses and scanned the document before reading.

Michael listened indifferently while Thurber read through all of the customary provisions, and his ear paid scarce attention to the clauses immediately following, in which she devised the major share of her property to him, but he was arrested by the final paragraph. It had to do with a small chest which was to be opened by "Mrs. Michael Menlow, my son's wife, on her wedding day."

The lawyer darted a glance at Michael, and their eyes met. Michael was mystified. What could be in the chest? Jewels? No, all of his mother's jewels were accounted for, and in a safety deposit box. Money? No, the idea that she would leave money in a chest, when it could have been devised more safely otherwise, was absurd. What then?

"Have you any idea of what the chest contains?" he asked Thurber. The lawyer smiled belatedly. "I was just going to ask you that."

They stared at each other for a moment. Then Michael shrugged. "I supposed the chest is in the keeping of the trust company."

"Yes," he paused. "You aren't going to peek, are you?" he asked, half seriously, half humorously. His eyes were studying the youth.

"Oh, no! I just—" Michael responded, confused, and slightly angered by the visitor's suggestion.

"Well," Thurber proceeded, oblivious of the offense he had given,

"the estate is, I know, in pretty good condition, and it won't be long before it is turned over to you. Your mother was a pretty sensible woman, and didn't allow her affairs to get tangled up." He pronounced pretty as if spelled purty.

"She was fortunate in having good counsellors, Mr. Thurber," Michael, though he did not like Thurber, felt that he owed him this tribute.

"Thank you, Michael, thank you. It makes me feel mighty good to hear you say that. And I hope that I can help you over any snags that you encounter. An old head and a young head go mighty well together."

Michael did not commit himself regarding this matter. He already had in mind turning over most of his legal affairs to a younger man. He felt about old lawyers as he regarded old physicians: Their heads are in the past, so how can their feet walk in the present?

When Thurber had gone, Michael went to the telephone to call Lilah Pharely, but replaced the receiver before giving his number. No, he mustn't rush matters. His flowers would speak for him today. He could phone her tomorrow. He was anxious to try out his newly acquired dancing knowledge. Then his sense of guilt over having failed to properly keep his period of mourning for his mother returned. He sat down to think about it: "I don't think she would want me to brood and brood about it," he decided. He got up, and went back to the telephone, but not to call Lilah. He rang up Alonzo Capper.

"Hey, Lonnie, whatcha doing?" "Where did you get that 'hey'?" "Farmer? I'm reading the Heptameron and enjoying life generally," was the response.

"I thought I'd run over for a while. I have something to tell you." He had in mind the clause in his mother's will regarding the chest.

"Come on over, then."

Katherine met Michael at the door. "He's upstairs, too lazy to dress and come down and meet you. He even demanded that his dinner be sent up."

"I'll pull him out." He started up the stairs.

"Oh, Michael!"

He turned to face Katherine. "You seem to have made quite an impression upon Lilah. She was asking me about you today—I met her downtown."

"Oh, she did? Well," Michael turned away to hide his flushed face. Then he bounded up the stairs three at a time, his heart athrill.

W.D. SHEPHERD MUST REMAIN IN PRISON HAL DONAHEY MIGHT GO TO MILITARY SCHOOL

GUARDIAN OF BILLY M'CLINTOCK DENIED HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

Counsel Refuses to Comment on Report Woman Also Was Poisoned

Springfield, Ill., April 10.—The state supreme court today denied the petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed by attorneys for William D. Shepherd, Chicago, held on an indictment charging him with the typhoid murder of his ward, William Nelson McClintock.

In denying Shepherd's last chance for freedom on bond the court set a precedent by issuing formal denial of the petition without filing the usual documents setting forth circumstances upon which it based its decision.

Chicago, April 10.—William D. Shepherd and his counsel today refused to comment on the new cry of murder hurled into the McClintock death probe by the formal report of coroner's chemists that Mrs. Mary McClintock, mother of William Nelson McClintock, for whose death Shepherd stands indicted for murder, had been killed by repeatedly administered doses of a mercuric poison.

RADIO SEARCH FAILS TO SOLVE SILENCE OF EXPLORATION PARTY

Learn Nothing From Steamer Arcturus Since March 29—Signals Are Sent

New York, April 10.—Radio search for the steamer Arcturus continued today in an effort to end the twelve day silence obtaining since the vessel and its scientific exploration party reported from 200 miles south of Panama, March 29.

The Arcturus, with scientists from the New York Zoological Society headed by William Beebe, put out from New York, February 10 to explore the Sargasso sea in mid-Atlantic, then turned westward through the Panama canal for a study of the Humboldt current off the west coast of South America and a visit to the Galapagos Islands in the Pacific Ocean.

The vessel put into Panama, March 23 for coal and provisions before continuing south.

Daily reports have been received in New York from the Arcturus through the Independent Wireless Company's station, the only wireless plant in the vicinity, capable of reaching the vessel. The only hours when a message might get through to the ship from New York, the station said, are from 3:30 to 5:30 a.m., when other stations were "off the air," because of climatic conditions. The Arcturus at present is in a region described as a "terrible static zone."

The daily effort to get a response from one of the two powerful sending sets, consisting of spark and continuous rotary transmission outfits, was today without result.

Southern stations which might reach the ship were called to aid today. All are in Central America, at Panama, Cristobal and Balboa. Because of the static which stood as a great barrier to wireless communication and the fact that the Humboldt current region is productive of storms which might disable the ship's antennae, it was not believed the silence meant the Arcturus had met disaster.

YOUNG BOY DIES AT HOSPITAL FRIDAY

Clifford Waddle, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Waddle, East Market Street, died at Espey Hospital, Friday morning at 4 o'clock. The child had been ill for two months, suffering from acute nephritis. He was removed to the hospital a week ago and his condition grew steadily worse and the contraction of uraemic poisoning Thursday night resulted in the lad's death.

Besides his parents, Clifford is survived by five brothers and sisters, Louise, Mildred, Mary Ruth and James. He attended the First U. P. Church and was a pupil of the sixth grade at McKinley School.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

BABE RUTH MUCH IMPROVED IS WORD FROM HOSPITAL; MAY PLAY OPENER

Bump on Head Suffered in Collapse is Not Serious—Influenza and Overeating Blamed for Condition of Player

New York, April 10.—"Babe" Ruth, champion home run hitter, although having a slight temperature, is "much improved," according to a bulletin on his condition issued at 10:30 o'clock today by Dr. Edward L. King, physician for the New York Yankees.

"There is hardly any change," the bulletin said. "Ruth had a little temperature but he is much improved. Although he spent a rather restless night, he fell asleep early this morning and slept about four hours."

Dr. King said no further bulletins would be issued on Ruth's condition. At the offices of the New York Yankees, it was said that Ruth would be kept at St. Vincent's Hospital for "two or three more days," and that it was hoped he would be in condition to play in the opening game of the American League season next Tuesday.

However, it was added that Ruth would not be permitted in the Yankee lineup until he had fully recovered.

New York, April 10.—"Babe" Ruth was reported much improved today, at St. Vincent's Hospital where the big Yank slugger is under treatment for an attack of influenza which cut short his participation in the team's exhibition tour and came near threatening his life.

"The home run king" was still sleeping at 8 o'clock this morning, after a quiet, restful night.

Ruth seemed to be well on the road to recovery, according to the Mother Superior at the hospital. The bump on his head, which he suffered when he collapsed aboard the train, which brought him to New York yesterday from Asheville, N. C., appeared to be nothing more than a bad bump, and not the cause of a possible brain concussion, as was feared at first.

Dr. Edward King, physician at St. Vincent's and also team physician for the New York Yanks, expected to pay the big batter a visit at 10 a.m., and said he was confident of a speedy recovery.

Burglars forced their way into the Ross Store Company, a drygoods and notion store in Bowersville late Thursday night escaping with men's wearing apparel, valued at between $50 and $75, and twenty-seven pennies from the cash register, it was reported to Sheriff Morris Sharp Friday morning.

Entrance was gained by smashing a pane of glass in a rear window. The store was ransacked and various articles of men's wear, such as shirts, shoes, caps and socks were stolen.

Special Deputy Sheriff Dilliver Reiden, sent to investigate, reported there were no clues leading to the possible capture of the bandits.

GOVERNOR WORRIES OVER KEEPING HIS ERRING SON ACTIVE

Friends Suggest Army or That Boy Be Put To Work at Hard Job

Columbus, O., April 10.—Governor Donahey today is threshing over the problem of what to do to curb the "sporting blood" of Hal, his 19 year old son. He has settled things in his mind.

Hal is either going to work or he is going to school. If to school, it may be a military school where they sometimes curb caperings of ardent youths. And Governor Donahey is determined to devote less time to the duties of state and more to his own family.

This much of his plans he revealed today to International News Service. "Hal is ready to do anything I decide," Governor Donahey said. "He is a good boy at heart. The people of the state need have no fear that I will handle him effectively."

All the plans for Hal's future are the result of his latest escapade—his flight to Columbus with Lillian Vogel, the 15 year old Zanesville girl. The public windup of the affair was written in Muskingum County Juvenile Court when Hal was fined $100 and placed in custody of the court until 21, and the girl was told to shun the boys and get back to her school books.

"I will decide definitely what to do with Hal after talking it over with the folks," the governor said. "He must be kept active. He is either going to school or going to work. It may be a military school and it may not, we haven't decided anything definitely."

One thing apparently is settled. Hal may lose his cherished wish to be appointed to West Point via the National Guard. He had hoped to study at the military academy to fit himself for appointment to the army air service. His plans were recalled by Mrs. Donahey's story of Hal's roadster: "The car is too slow for him," she said. "I guess he wants an airplane."

The governor is convinced the solution of Hal's troubles lies in keeping him eternally active. Some advisers have suggested that he be put to work which would keep him so busy and so tire him during the day that he wouldn't be interested in going out at night. Others have advised an enlistment in the army under some particularly "hard boiled" top sergeant. Still others think the military school the best place for Hal.

Just what Hal think about it is not likely to be known for a time at least. Attempts to reach him at the executive mansion today were futile. Governor Donahey is firmly convinced of one thing, however; he is going to devote more time to his family. He didn't say why.

"I have worked on this job as governor harder than I have ever known any governor before me," the governor explained. "I have worked night and day. If it hasn't been a speech somewhere at night, I have been working here at the office. Now a man owes something to his family and I haven't been devoting the time I should to mine. In the future I'm going to give less time to the state and more time to my own family."

HOTEL GUEST DIES IN IRONTON BLAZE

Ironton, O., April 10.—One man is known to be dead and one other injured as the result of a fire which partially destroyed the O'Brien Hotel here early this morning. The identity of the dead man could not be learned as his roommates, C. H. Turner, of St. Louis and the injured man were all unacquainted, having been given the same room on account of a crowded condition. The dead man was killed when he jumped from a second story window striking his head on the street below.

It is possible that other patrons of the hotel were entrapped on the second floor, as it was rumored that an unknown child also perished in the flames.

Paris, April 10.—Premier Herriot went before the senate this afternoon and denied that his government had ever exceeded the legal inflation limit of the Bank of France. Herriot sat on the ministers' bench and replied to interpellations by Francois Marsal, finance minister, under Premier Poincare. Herriot yesterday charged the Poincare government with being responsible for the financial chaos which exists in France.

Paris, April 10.—Premier Herriot's political Waterloo may be fought this afternoon when he will appear before the senate at three o'clock and demand a vote of confidence after explaining his policies.

According to forecasts in the lobby of the chamber of deputies, Francois Marsal will interpellate the premier on statements made in the chamber yesterday and former Premier Poincare will speak for the purpose of disproving Herriot's accusations that the present financial crisis is the result of the cabinet's heritage from Poincare.

The former premier will lay the responsibility to the present government's irregularities, it was reported.

VON HINDENBURG WILL NOT WORK TO RESTORE MONARCHY HE STATES

"Don't Rock the Boat" Will be Policy of War Horse If Elected—Denies Ex-Kaiser Will Influence His Policies

Hanover, Germany, April 10.—"Don't rock the boat!" That will be the policy of Field Marshal Hindenburg if his candidacy for the German presidency is successful. The reactionary hordes who expect the veteran soldier to encourage monarchistic or militaristic revival in Germany will be bitterly disappointed.

Although he is personally convinced that monarchy is the best form of government for Germany Von Hindenburg realizes that any attempt to reestablish it now—or probably for years to come—would mean a bloody civil war. His guiding principle as outlined exclusively to International News Service today.

GIRL COMMITTED TO DELAWARE; MAN HELD ON MANN ACT CHARGE

Alice Lee, 17, Cedarville, ward of the juvenile court here, who was arrested in South Bend, Ind., recently, with Ellison Kent, 29, after they are alleged to have spread a trail of forged checks, was committed to the Girls' Industrial School, Delaware, by Judge S. C. Wright in Juvenile Court Thursday.

The girl was brought here by Mrs. Beatrice McNally, Columbus, of the Child Welfare Department. Kent is being held in South Bend and will face a charge of violating the Mann white slave act for having transported a girl, a minor, from one state to another.

The girl was made a ward of the court three or four years ago after she is said to have been mistreated by her step-father. She was turned over to the Child Welfare Department and that organization placed her in various homes.

She had been in a Cleveland home seven months, during which time there had been no complaint against her. While in Cleveland she met Kent during a street car flirtation and gained permission for him to call at her home. A month later he proposed they leave, and they traveled through Michigan and Indiana, leaving forged checks in their wake, police say. Their arrest in South Bend culminated the trip.

The girl, who was adjudged a delinquent, is the daughter of Mrs. Henry Angel, Cedarville, R. R. 3.

APPROVE TAXATION

will be "peace with the whole world and law order and unity within Germany."

Through his son, Major Oscar Von Hindenburg, the field marshal answered the questions put to him by the correspondent and gave the high spots of his proposed program later amplifying this through his trusted friend, Lieutenant Colonel Von Feldmann who will be his local campaign manager.

"The story that I telegraphed to Doorn (to the former kaiser) for permission to accept the candidacy is a base lie," the old warhorse declared, emphatically. "An equally vicious lie is the assertion that if I'm elected the German policy will be dictated from Doorn."

The writer explained to Von Hindenburg the views of the outside world regarding his candidacy and the misgivings expressed in the United States and elsewhere because of fears first that he might attempt restoration of monarchy and second, the possibility of a new war.

"Nothing is more remote from my mind that any attempt whatever to use the presidential office for restoring the monarchy," Von Hindenburg said. "Such an attempt would mean the intensifying of bitter domestic party strife. My highest desire is to do my share to eliminate that strife. This certainly is no time for pushing the question of form of government to the forefront. The German nation has far more serious problems to solve. The trouble with so many among us is that they are breaking their heads over the form of state forgetting the state itself."

As for the fear that his election would mean a new war sooner or later, Von Hindenburg considers it an insult to his common sense and his calm judgment as a soldier. He refused to say more about it other than:

"Do they think I'm a damn fool?" The field marshal intends to make no campaign speeches or trips.

PRIEST IS

Newark, O., April 10.—Rev. Father Hugh Ewing, for many years a priest in Columbus, Ohio, who suffered a stroke of paralysis several months ago and came to this city to recuperate, was again stricken at the home of his mother Mrs. Henrietta Ewing, in Granville Street, here, and is in a very critical condition. Little hopes are entertained for his recovery.

PAIR ESCAPES

Police are searching for Daniel Miller and William Heery of Dayton who escaped arrest by Patrolman Ed Craig, late Thursday night on Cincinnati Ave.

Residents in the vicinity of Cincinnati Avenue and Station Road complained at Police Headquarters that the pair was disturbing the peace. Miller and Heery fled at the approach of the officers, police say.

DOROTHY ELLINGSON BECOMES PATIENT IN INSANITY HOSPITAL

Will Be On Probation for Month—If Safe She Will Be Tried

Napa, Calif., April 10.—Dorothy Ellingson, broken butterfly, who murdered her mother, today passed from the limelight under which she has writhed in torture for the past three weeks and became a probationary patient in the state hospital for the insane here.

Whether she will remain here or not depends upon the decision arrived at by members of the hospital after they have observed the girl for thirty days.

One month from now Dorothy was expected to face her sanity trial with medical experts as the jury. These experts, members of the hospital staff will decide if in their opinion she is sane. If they find Dorothy sane, there was a possibility that she would be remanded to the custody of Sheriff Thomas Finn of San Francisco and that the district attorney's office would proceed to try her for murder.

Dorothy slept soundly last night, apparently completely worn out by the strain she had undergone in her trial. She was brought to the hospital here last night, arriving at 7:15. She partook of a hearty meal after arriving and was assigned to the probationary cottage, retiring at eight o'clock.

Today Dorothy was to be examined by Dr. J. N. Scanlan, head of the institution. Once more she was to be subjected to the hated tests, which alienists apply. The tests today however were merely for the purpose of classifying her case. She will remain in the probationary cottage for thirty days after which if she again is found insane her case will be definitely graded for treatments and assigned more or less permanently to the section of the hospital in which she will receive treatment.

RIGHT OF PAPERS TO PUBLISH INCOMES TO COME BEFORE COURT

Supreme Court To Hear Arguments In Test Case Involving Two Newspapers

Washington, April 10.—The right of newspapers under the 1924 revenue tax law to publish individual income tax returns will be argued before the United States supreme court next week.

Because of the general interest in the case, the court set it ahead of many cases pending on the docket. The Kansas City Journal-Post, and the Baltimore Post, each of which published a list of individual tax returns were selected by the government for the test.

The lower federal courts sustaining the newspapers held that the publication did not constitute a violation of the law and if it did constitute a violation, the law itself was invalid because it violated the federal constitution.

Each of these points upon which the case was decided, was changed in a brief for the government, submitted to the supreme court by Solicitor General James M. Beck. In this brief it is contended the phrase "available to public inspection" carried in the law, does not impart a right "to print or publish."

The solicitor-general holds that "by inspection, as used in the law, is meant only the right to examine or view and nothing more."

"The necessary inference is that the right to inspect would not carry with it the right to communicate the information so obtained even to congress," said the brief.

RUTH MOST NOTABLE CONTRADICTION OF HEALTH SAYS WALSH

BY DAVID J. WALSH

New York, April 10.—George H. Ruth, the poor, but honest ball player, lies ill on his cot in a local hospital today not as the greatest slugger of all time, but as one of the most notable contradictions the human race has known. His illness has been diagnosed as "a slight attack of the flu," yet what would be an ordinary illness for an ordinary man, has caused this individual, so strong that he can hit a ball almost further than the eye can reach, to give a series of exhibition dives throughout the surrounding country.

Nature has endowed Ruth with the torso of a piano mover and the firm wiry legs of an athletic dancer. It has given him a pair of arms of unusual strength, arms that can swing a fifty six ounce bat, the heaviest any player ever used, as fast as the ordinary man would wave a gymnasium wand. Yet nature has seemingly left its job undone. It has created a human mountain that can be blown over by a zephyr.

Ruth has been baseball's official patient ever since his symptoms became a subject for national concern—tonsils removed; arm disabled by a carbuncle; several attacks of influenza, etc.

The present seizure is so light, according to attending physicians, that he may be able to play in the opening game on Tuesday.

Show me the man who must be pushed on a stretcher through a Pullman window on Thursday, yet may be out on the ball field the following Tuesday and I'll show you the world's greatest contradiction. That is Ruth to the letter. He can hit a baseball somewhere between 500 and 600 feet but a fever of 101 breaks him like the stalk of a hothouse lily.

And just as remarkable is the fact that he recovers so rapidly. He is authority for the statement that he almost died of the "flu" in Hot Springs several years ago but his confinement at that time lasted about three days, if that.

What ails, then, his great bulk? None.

I saw Ruth come charging into the plate in one of the 1923 world series games and run headon at Frank Snyder, who had braced himself for the impact. Being motionless, the burden of proof was all on Snyder. He seemed due to be ironed out flat. But he wasn't. Ruth crashed into him and bounded blithely away to bring up on his shoulder blades fifteen feet away. Snyder didn't even recoil from the shock. As far as he was concerned, there wasn't any.

Children of McKinley School saw the pictures Friday afternoon.

DIVISION B TEAM OF ANTIOCH IS WINNER OVER CEDARVILLE 9

The Division B baseball team of Antioch College, Yellow Springs closed its season Thursday by defeating Cedarville College by a score of 12 to 7 on the Antioch diamond, in a game that was featured by the heavy hitting of both nines.

Weeping clouds forced a halt to the game in the seventh inning when the diamond became too soaked for further play. Division B team engaged in three contests winning twice and losing once.

Victories were recorded over Cedarville and Wilmington while only Dayton University forced Antioch to lower its colors.

The only other feature of the Antioch-Cedarville game was the numerous misplays in the field, which accounted for several runs.

Coach Earl Prugh will start next week drilling his Division A nine which plays its opening game with Wilberforce University at Yellow Springs, May 4.

Batteries for the Cedarville-Antioch game were: Cedarville—Turner, Arthur and Adair; Antioch—Dawson, MacLean and Hiller.

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks and Investments

DON'T INVEST IN A SMILE

When buying stocks and bonds do not pay out your money for a smiling face and a glib line of talk. The smiling face is a tremendous asset in selling anything. Unfortunately, one of the classes which has learned this best is the class which sells "worthless securities." When a man tries to sell you any security, don't buy his smiles or his selling talk. Make him produce facts, not promises.

After he has produced his "facts" go to our banker and talk the matter over with him. When you are putting money into securities be as much of a skeptic as you know how to be. This will partially protect you from the "smiling salesman" and it will save you a lot of money and regrets.

A SANCTUARY FOR BIRDS

AS a sanctuary for birds, Emlen Roosevelt has given the Audubon association a twelve acre tract of growing timber and underbrush adjoining the graveyard at Oyster Bay wherein is buried the remains of Theodore Roosevelt. This gracious act not only preserves an American shrine from the degradation of unfit surroundings, but it also makes for the dead the sort of memorial he would have liked best. He was a lover of birds and an eager student of their habits and the establishment of national reserves where they could multiply and fill the air with joyous song, unharmed by man or beast, was close to his heart. This particular territory is already a place of habitation for birds of many species. In the grounds of Sagamore Hill Roosevelt himself recorded a long list of them. The wood thrushes, rather shy birds as a rule, "nest around our house," he once wrote. There too came orioles, robins, catbirds, kingbirds, song sparrows and many others. Indeed the complete list comes near to including almost every common variety as well as some less common, residents or migrants. The vireos, the flycatchers, the warblers, the chewink, the redwing — what a concord of sweet sounds will always be heard by visitors to the place he loved so well!

So long as they are undisturbed and protected from their enemies, of which the cat is the worst, the birds will build close to the homes of men. It is good to know that they will not be driven from the haunts to which the great man who was so close to nature welcomed them.

COURTESY COSTS BUT LITTLE

WHAT has become of the courteous person, known in bygone days of chivalry as gentle—gentlemen and gentlewomen? A well known writer recently lamented the decline of courtesy and averred that the individual has become so immersed in his own affairs as to have no thought for the rights of others. While there is certain ground for complaint it is not quite so bad as portrayed. It is contended that men no longer defer to women in public conveyances and that even mothers carrying babies are often forced to stand while men occupy seats. There may be differences of attitude in various parts of the country but observation here in the good old state of Ohio convinces us that there is still the old-time consideration for the aged, the infirm and especially for women with babies in their arms.

However it must be admitted that it is not always the younger and more vigorous men who are the readiest to yield their seats to those to whom standing would seem a hardship. Often those who tender their seats are of an age that might seem to entitle them to remain seated even though women stand. There is another phase however which probably has had much to do with the change of attitude. Women are less inclined than in a former day to await the courtesy of men. Perhaps, as they have become more and more devoted to business pursuits, to the independent spirit of equal suffrage, to club work and politics, they are more vigilant in looking out for themselves. They are competing with men in everything else so why not compete with him for a seat in a public conveyance? Is the seeming attitude of the woman of today. Thus they become aggressive and the trait is evidently carried by them outside of business. As a rule women are fully as energetic in securing vantage ground anywhere as are men.

It remains true, though, that courtesy costs but little and it does smoothe personal contact. One who pushes and shoves ahead of the line may feel that that is the way to succeed, but it will be at the expense of dark looks and complimentary remarks. One who retains at all times a thought for others certainly need not suffer much delay while the satisfaction of having acted the gentle part will more than compensate for any inconvenience sustained.

"JUST TRIM DOWN THE OLD ONE AND MAKE IT DO."

1905-Twenty Years Ago-1925

James F. Rankin, South Charleston banker, has resigned as trustee of Wilberforce College. C. C. Bentley, who has been quite ill expects to leave Tuesday for the south for his health. Mr. C. S. Frazer was a business visitor in Cincinnati on Wednesday. Mr. George Bocklet, who recently resigned his position at Jobe Bros. store has accepted a place with Elder and Johnston of Dayton.

John F. Wallace, chief engineer of the Panama Canal reports that there are now 5,000 men engaged under his direction on the construction work of the canal.

or coarse vegetable should be included to act as a broom to the intestinal tract. Here is a list of the foods which come under these four main heads:

Protein Foods: Milk, eggs, gelatin, peanuts, meats, fish, peas, poultry, cheese, baked beans and lentils. Carbohydrate Foods: Potatoes, rice, barley, tapioca, cornstarch, buckwheat, cornmeal, bananas, macaroni, breads, sugar, honey. Fat Foods: Butter, olive oil, bacon, nuts, fat meats and cream. Vitamins: Are found in: The fresh fruits, the fresh vegetables, milk, eggs, whole grains.

Many of these foods classified under one specific head, contain some measure of the elements which come under the other heads. For instance, peanuts are strongly protein but they also contain much fat and some carbohydrate matter. Nor have I been able to list all foods above. But, sweepingly speaking, the housewife can choose one food from each of the divisions above and get the result of a well-balanced meal. If she wishes to study the subject more exhaustively and it is worth such study she can get any number of books upon it at any Public Library.

At all times of the year, but especially in the spring when our system is adjusting itself to the change in temperature, we should have an abundance of salads, greens, fruits and fresh vegetables in our daily meals. Spinach, rhubarb, lettuce, dandelion greens celery, and all other crisp fresh dishes of this nature, contain mineral salts and vitamins, necessary to our health. As I have explained many times before in this column, fruits and greens have an alkaline content which neutralizes the acids formed by meats and starchy foods.

You will notice that my menus call for plenty of salads and that fruit desserts predominate. But that does not mean that you cannot add still more fresh vegetables and fruits to them if you wish. You cannot eat too many of the vitamin foods.

Every housewife should be able to build a well-balanced menu for herself. It is not too great a task for her to attempt. Any woman can do it if she keeps in mind that a well-balanced meal consists of one tenth per cent protein, one fifteenth or one twentieth fat, and the rest starches and sugars (which are called "carbohydrates"). Vitamins should also be present in fruits and greens and one "stringy".

The ravages of constipation can be promptly stopped. Here is signed evidence.

Mr. Hunt's case is typical of thousands of others who have found habit-forming pills and drugs of no avail in seeking permanent relief from constipation. Read this interesting letter:

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has entirely relieved me of constipation. Before I started using ALL-BRAN I was a regular guy in taking pills—always getting something to bring relief. Now I never touch them. I fully recommend it to anyone to relieve constipation as you advertise on the package. My daughter also eats ALL-BRAN and I can see her health improve. (Signed) S. V. Hunt, Aurora, Ill.

CHAINED

None of us truly and exactly knows freedom. And the more that we record on our brain the intelligence of the world, the less free we are. The opposite should be the result.

Increased knowledge should give increased freedom. And freedom should lead a man everywhere. And he should grow happier and happier and stronger and stronger and stronger—but as things are he fights for his happiness and grows strong through sacrifices and privation.

Freedom should always enlarge a man. But how tied we are. We chafe in chains.

Chains of convention, chains of habit, chains of false notions, chains of worthless associations. They keep us where we are.

As I awoke this morning I heard the intermingling notes from many birds, the nightingale and then the mocking bird, and notes that I could not guess, but all sweetening into a chorus of beauty that whispered the essence of freedom into my heart.

I thought how free the life of a bird—hunting its sunshine where it will and always so happy under every circumstance.

I got up and leaned out of the window that I might study and drink in every touch of beauty that each throat poured out into the tropic air. I saw no chains, visible or invisible tied to the delicate legs of these songsters of the morning.

It does seem that the nearer we get to the heart and breath of Nature the more nearly we live the life we were meant to live free from chains, with a reaching mind that absorbs every floating fragrance of beauty.

But when you are chained you can only enjoy the fleeting pleasures of happiness. Like a flash they pass, leaving you regretful, alone and helpless.

He who is freest is always most strong. Because he is not hampered for service, but every ready.

Also along the D. S. & X. S. Traction Line at the Old Town Mill stop.

This cottage and surroundings are electric lighted, and beautifully set in a "U" shaped clump of trees, almost entirely surrounded by water, with the Xenia City Waterworks Sunken Flower Garden to the front.

This will not only make you a nice place to spend your idle hours, but a good investment, as you can easily rent it to great advantage when you are not using it yourself.

This cottage is a good buy from a speculative standpoint as there is a move on foot right now to develop these grounds into a fine summer resort, with beautiful drives, rivers, creeks, lagoons, fountains, dining halls, hotels, barbecues, filling stations, dance pavilion, bathing beaches, boating and fishing and as this develops the summer cottages will increase in value accordingly.

Come and look over this cottage before the sale and make up your mind to buy a cottage and help develop these grounds into a beautiful summer resort.

OUT OF STRUGGLE

Why do you fancy God made Him poor instead of filling His purse with gold? Why was He born to a carpenter instead of a prince of the royal food? God could have given him a crown to wear, could have spared Him hunger and thirst and pain. But God was shaping a soul in Him, and a soul must suffer the crown to gain.

Life is not as the rich believe. Life is learned by the poor and meek. There is more to see than the pleasant valleys, and the road is long to the mountain peak. And had God sent Him to luxury, had He made Him a prince as He could have done, Some Herold on earth would have rubbed Him and seared the soul of His only Son.

I fancy God purposely made Him poor and purposely sent Him to learn a trade. Sent Him to the live as the many live, for out of struggle the man is made; And He read men's hearts and He read their minds and He dwelt with them and His spirit grew, But wealth would have stifled the soul of Him, as Herod himself once tried to do. So I write these lines for my boy to read: I would rather you walk with the poor of earth, I would rather you go to your task by day and learn by test what your faith is worth. Work with the humble, the good, the strong, be you dauntless and unafraid, Beware the whispers of idle men, It is out of struggle a man is made.

Serious operation avoided Resinol healed stubborn sore

Elyria, Ohio, March 1:—"I feel it my duty and pleasure to thank you for the wonderful cure your Resinol salve has wrought for my husband, who suffered from an open sore on the back of his neck for four years. Several doctors said that it was a cancer and advised its removal, but it was so near the base of the brain that we feared an operation. I had found Resinol Ointment so effective for cuts, burns and similar things that I induced my husband to try that. After using only two jars of Resinol, the sore entirely healed—every trace of it has disappeared. Resinol certainly was a God-send to us!" (Signed) Mrs. E. E. Kennedy, 243 E. 8th St.

EYELESS FISH ARE FOUND DEEP UNDER SAN ANTONIO, TEX.

San Antonio, Texas, April 10—The theory that a subterranean lake exists under San Antonio, far beneath the level of the sea, is being investigated by scientists following the discovery of eyeless fish in water pumped from a 1,500-foot artesian well at a local packing plant.

San Antonio is only 650 feet above the level of the sea, and the subterranean lake is believed to be 850 feet below the surface of the ocean.

The fish removed from the well are white and resemble catfish. Their fins are powerful and well developed. Small bumps or "pimples" appear over the spots where their eyes should be, indicating, it is said, that the specimen found are descended from normal fish—the eyes disappearing because darkness in their underground lake made sight organs useless.

Scientists are wondering if the discovery supports the geological theory that the Gulf of Mexico once covered the southern portion of the North American continent. This theory would aid in explaining how the fish were transferred to the underground waters, it is said.

R. G. Hollingsworth of the United States Public Health Service, is conducting research work in an attempt to determine their origin. He has studied "blind" fish taken from the Mammoth Cave in Kentucky, and says the two species are similar.

"It proves," he says, "that there is a big lake in a cave far beneath the ground. The well evidently pierces the cave and leads into the lake. When water is pumped to the surface the fish are pumped up with it."

The specimens found thus far are about six inches in length. Larger ones unable to pass through the wellpipe are believed to exist.

It is estimated the pressure beneath the surface under which the fish live is 779 pounds to the square inch. The specimen expand—in some cases burst—and die upon being brought into contact with the lighter pressure above ground. Some however have lived several minutes on the surface.

The underground lake is thought to be narrow, as other artesian wells of the same depth in other parts of San Antonio have brought up no fish.

Specimen are to be sent to eastern universities to be studied.

BARN IS BURNED

Ashland, Ohio, April 10—A grass fire, believed to have started from some burning cigarette stub thrown from a passing auto, destroyed a barn half a mile west of Polk last night. Damage was estimated at $5,000.

XENIA MAN NAMED IN EQUITY SUIT

Suit for equitable relief has been instituted in Clinton County Common Pleas Court by W. H. Wiltsee and Tabitha A. Wiltsee, versus the Albert Goldberg Realty Company of Cincinnati; Mr. Goldberg Joseph T. Russell, M. E. Painter, Xenia, R. D. Painter and John Jones.

The plaintiffs ask that the court order cancellation of a promissory note for $250 given them by the defendants in confirmation of a real estate trade which failed to materialize. They aver this note was delivered to M. E. a Painter, March 13, 1925, to be due four months after date.

In a lengthy petition the plaintiffs recite a series of deceptions alleged to have been practiced upon them by the defendants.

GOES TO LONDON

Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy went to London, O., Friday to preside on the bench in the case of the state of Ohio against M. F. Long, charged with stealing chickens. In the previous trial, the defendant was found guilty, but the court granted a new trial because of newly discovered evidence. Judge Gowdy was on the London bench when the motion for a new trial was allowed.

FREIGHT TRAINS TO HAVE NAMES JUST AS PULMAN CARS NOW

Fast through freight trains on the Pennsylvania Railroad are going to be designated by names instead of numbers in the future.

This will be the first time in American railway history that freight trains have been officially named. Hitherto they have usually been known by symbols or numbers, such as "PH 10," "CMB," "LM 4," etc., to identify them for operating purposes.

The new names which have been chosen are intended to appeal to the imagination. They typify speed and certainty; in some cases they have historic significance, and in others are related to the character of service which the train performs. Altogether twenty-five regularly operated through trains have thus far been named.

In picking the names the old designation "Star Union Line" has been revived and will be borne by the fast freight to Chicago from Atlantic Seaboard points. This will perpetuate the name of the first through fast freight line ever operated between the East and West, and the first to carry refrigerator cars. It was for many years a famous trade name of the Pennsylvania Railroad System, but was abolished during war control of the railroads.

Another name of interest is "The Gas Wagon," selected for the east-bound train from Detroit to seaboard, which largely carries automobile freight. "The Standard," from Pittsburgh to Toledo, will call to mind the Pennsylvania's motto, "The Standard Railroad of the World." Other names have their own individual meanings.

The complete list follows:

"The Ironmaster," from Pittsburgh to New York Harbor, carrying all freight and making third morning delivery—Symbol BG 12.

"The Accelerator," from Toledo to Pittsburgh, carrying all freight and making second morning delivery—Symbol WV 4.

"The Bison," from Buffalo to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying all freight making second morning delivery—Symbol BF 4.

"The Standard," from Pittsburgh to Toledo, carrying all freight and making second morning delivery—Symbol WV 3.

"The Blue Goose," from Atlantic Seaboard points to Buffalo, carrying all freight and making second morning delivery—Symbol BF 5.

"The Comet," from Atlantic Seaboard points to St. Louis, carrying all freight and making fifth morning delivery—Symbol VL 1.

"Uncle Sam," from St. Louis to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying perishable freight and making third morning delivery—Symbol VL 2.

"The Greyhound," from St. Louis to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying stock and making third morning delivery—Symbol Ph 10.

"The Eclipse," from St. Louis to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying merchandise and making fifth morning delivery—Symbol VL 4.

"The Yankee," from New England and Long Island points to Chicago, carrying all freight and making fourth morning delivery—Symbol NL 1.

Gas Mask Murder

ALEXANDER BUCHANAN

One of the strangest murders in the annals of American crime occurred at Waverly, Mass., when Alexander Buchanan, former Canadian soldier, was taken into the cellar of an unused building of the McLean Hospital, where a war time gas mask was tied over his face and he was chloroformed to death. The police believe he was slain by war time "buddies."

"Star Union Line," from Atlantic Seaboard points to Chicago, carrying all freight and making fourth morning delivery—Symbol PF 1.

"Man O'War," from Chicago to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying stock and making third morning delivery—Symbol FW 8.

"The Packer," from Chicago to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying perishable freight and making third morning delivery—Symbol CMB.

"The Mercury," from Chicago to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying merchandise and making fourth morning delivery—Symbol PF 2.

"The Arrow," from Atlantic Seaboard points to Detroit, carrying all freight and making fourth morning delivery—Symbol ED 1.

"The Gas Wagon," from Detroit to Atlantic Seaboard points, carrying automobiles and all freight and making third morning delivery—Symbol ED 2.

"The Hummer," from Pittsburgh to St. Louis, carrying all freight and making third morning delivery—Symbol PH 5.

"Blue Streak," from Atlantic Seaboard points to Indianapolis, carrying all freight and making fourth morning delivery—Symbol IN 1.

LOAD TOO HEAVY

Bucyrus, April 10—Sheriff Ulmer, using a "lodometer," stopped a truck at Chatfield, measured the load and found it weighed 13 1-2 tons. Mayor Tomper at Chatfield fined the truck driver $25 and costs. The load limit on country pike roads is 7 1-2 tons and on state roads, 10 tons.

FINED ON CHARGE

George Kormas, proprietor of a shop, in Osborn, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to ten days in the County Jail by Judge S. C. Wright on a charge of running a game of chance in Probate Court Thursday afternoon. He pleaded guilty. The jail sentence was suspended on condition that he pay the fine and costs. Clears Complexion

"Oh! how clear and beautiful your complexion is today, my dear!"

THERE is a certain joy—a certain pride—in knowing you are admired, whether it be from father, brother, husband or sweetheart! And back of that joy is the satisfaction of knowing all is well.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps, wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness which is not theirs. But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that craved for attractiveness—that clear skin—that beauty. A clear skin—is the barometer of one's condition. A healthy skin radiates beauty. Pure, clean blood means a clear skin.

S.S.S. is waiting to help you. It will rid your blood of its impurities and give you that clear complexion. Since 1826 S.S.S. has been ridding people of blood impurities, from pimples, from blackheads, boils, eczema and from rheumatism, too. Because S.S.S. is made from fresh herbs and barks, it may be taken with perfect safety. Try it yourself. You will not only look better, but you will feel better, too.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

With

Gertrude Ohnstead, Gloria Grey, Cullen Landis, Raymond McKee, Ruth Stonehouse, Baby Pat O'Malley

Remember the story by Gene Stratton-Porter, "A Girl of the Limberlost." The story of a girl of the Michigan woods; a buoyant, lovable type of self-reliant American. Her philosophy is one of love and kindness towards all things; her hope is never dimmed. And by the sheer beauty of her soul, and the purity of her vision, she wins from barren and unpromising surroundings those rewards of high courage. You have never forgotten the story and you'll never forget the photoplay.

AN EASTER THOUGHT

Easter Day brings a vision to our mind which reaches to the far distant shores of eternity. It is the Day when our immortality is confirmed and our faith takes new hold on the Eternal Power of Christ's resurrection. Christ is risen, so we too can conquer the bands of death and live with Him thru-out eternity. Some one exclaimed, "If we could only feel the exhilaration of the Easter feeling, the tenderness of the Easter Message! Day by Day!" But surely we have been gripped by the Easter message, we feel its strength each swift winged day. Frequently we think of the resurrection of that last day and the life to come through Jesus Christ. The words fall soothingly upon our ears; for they echo our faith, they breathe the message of Easter. Not only therefore, is every Sunday Easter Sunday, but every day is brightened by the brilliance of the Easter Hope, Immortality."

"The Easter Lilies, pure and white!
Make Thou our hearts, O Lord of Light!
Like Easter lilies, let them be
Sweet Chalice of love to Thee!"

WILDRED DICKERSON AWARDED $15,000 IN LARGE DAMAGE SUIT

After deliberating three and one-half hours, a jury in Common Pleas Court awarded Mildred Dickerson $15,000 against the village of Osborn and the Miami Conservancy District Thursday night. A unanimous verdict favoring the plaintiff was returned by the jury at 8:20 o'clock.

Miss Dickerson brought suit against the conservancy district and Osborn for $50,000 damages growing out of injuries she claimed to have sustained when she accidentally stepped into a hole in the sidewalk in the village of Osborn in 1920.

An attempt will be made by attorneys for the conservancy district to carry the case to a higher court, according to Attorney Harry D. Smith, Xenia counsel for the district who said a motion for a new trial would be filed in Common Pleas court Friday.

The conservancy district held during the trial that it could not be sued for damages in Greene County since the district was organized in Montgomery County and therefore suit must be brought in the latter county separately.

However, Judge R. L. Gowdy ruled in the pleadings, demurrers, and motions that the district was jointly liable with the village of Osborn to suit in the county, where the hole was located. It is on this point that the district will appeal the case, according to Attorney Smith.

The case went to the jury at 4:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon after arguments of attorneys had been completed. Finding that no decision could be reached at 6:30 p. m., the court allowed the jurors to be released. They were again locked up at 7:15 p. m., reaching a verdict an hour and fifteen minutes later.

Miss Dickerson charged in her suit for damages, that the absence of adequate lighting facilities caused her to accidentally step into a hole in the walk and fall against a protruding lead pipe, resulting in injuries from which she has failed to recover.

Conflicting medical testimony was the feature of the last day of the trial. Physicians for the plaintiff testified her injuries were sustained at the time of the accident. Defense medical testimony, based on physical examination of Miss Dickerson, attributed her present condition to suggestive neurosis, a nervous disease and that her present state was congenital.

Attorney H. D. Smith, Xenia, Judge T. B. Brown, and A. S. Frank of Dayton, were attorneys for the conservancy district. M. D. Rice acted for Osborn; Attorneys W. L. Miller, J. A. Finney, Xenia and F. B. Johnson of Indianapolis were counsel for the plaintiff.

BELLBROOK

About thirty young people had a winter feast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis on Tuesday night, the occasion being in honor of their daughter, Miss Gladys Davis.

Our local Ford agent, J. L. Myers, reports the sale of about $7 machines during the past year.

Hon. George H. Thorne, of Columbus, spent Saturday and Sunday with his Bellbrook friends.

The Charles Lutz place, formerly owned by Solomon Sidenstricker has been purchased by Lee C. Klinger and Fred Foell of Dayton.

Ray Peterson and friends from Dayton, were out last week depopulating the Little Miami and Big Sugar creeks of their inhabitants.

Mayor Roy Black to date has made the best showing of any of the local fishermen, having captured 11 large black suckers at one fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Spahr, Walter Spahr and son Paul, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Glosser and daughter Hattie.

The Boys Club of Bellbrook and Sugar Creek Township, were royally entertained by the Rev. Latham of the Presbyterian Church, at the Dayton Y. M. C. A., last Thursday night. All the sports known to the institution were indulged in by the happy bunch, made up of Harry Bollinger, Cramer Crowl, George Hyne, Scott Hopkins, Wayne Hopkins, Thel Hopkins, Wayne Black, John Black, Philip Black, Roy Black, Ralph Edgington, Richard Edgington, Kinsley Smith.

The sick of the neighborhood, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Berryhill, Mrs. Emilene Stuck, B. F. Thomas, Mrs. Nettie Wilson, Absalom Davis, Alpha Stephens, W. H. Sidenstricker and Glen Hess are reported better.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Myers, and Mr. Myers father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Plummer, entertained relatives from Dayton Sunday.

Sixteen little girl friends of Wanda Jeanne Hess assembled at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hess, of North Main Street, last Sunday, the occasion being the fifth birthday anniversary of their little friends. When dinner was announced there dawned on their visions five lighted candles which adorned a large cake set high in the center of the table. The little hostess received many pretty and useful gifts. Those present to enjoy their good things set before them by Mr. and Mrs. Hess were Helen Marie Smith, Betty Jane Hurley, Genevieve Stephens, Laura Louise Multhup, Betty Jane Keiser, Wilma Smith, Lucy Mae Ryne, Andy Bohns, Virginia Black, Virginia Lackey, Mary Ann Mundabaugh, Elizabeth Penewit, Ethel Edgington, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hess, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hess.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Austin received a telegram Saturday from George W. Miller of Los Angeles, Cal., announcing the death in that city of their son Arthur Lee Austin, who died on that day following a surgical operation. Mr. Austin was a native of Bellbrook. He was 59 years of age. Early in life he chose the occupation of a drygoods salesman, and began as a clerk in his father's store in the village. The family moved to Dayton in the late 70's and the young man found employment in the Lambert Clark store at that place, where he was highly esteemed by his employers, who regarded him as one of the leading salesmen of the city. After a long period of service in which he built up a reputation such as few salesmen acquire, he moved to Los Angeles, Cal., where he continued his calling for over thirteen years, during which time he had no superiors and few equals as a salesman. He leaves to mourn their loss, his wife, Mrs. Nellie Austin, his aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Austin, one brother Curtis Austin of Dayton and one sister, Mrs. Prudence Fiorini, now living in Milan, Italy. Burial was made in Los Angeles. Mr. Austin was a highly accomplished Christian gentleman with a feeling for others that was humane in the extreme.

A number of friends of Lillian Johnson arranged a surprise on her which took place at her home on S. Main Street, Monday evening, March 31. After refreshments were served, the evening was spent in various social ways. Those present were Edna Hopkins, Stella Hopkins, Myrtle Dougherty, Cleo Stephens, Cora Darggett, Gladys Davis, Alice Ryne, Ruth Kinder, Hattie Glosser, Dora Avey, Emily Holland, Emma Smith, Louise Berryhill, Katherine Gibson, Trilby Henderson, John Hunt, Richard Edgington, James Burton, Robert Curtis, Herman Saylor, James Miller, Clifford Gibbons, Raymond Miller, Clifford Davis, Carroll Berryhill, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson and son.

FAIRIES ARE LIVING AGAIN IN THE KNOW YOUR SCHOOLS PLAYS

Patrons of the "Know Your Schools" program at Central High School are being carried back to Peter Pan days and their faith in the existence of fairies is being revived. Dainty little misses and small boys are enacting the roles of fairy creatures and the children's love of "play-acting" is being satisfied in the group of fantastic playlets included in the "Know Your Schools" programs.

The spirit of fairies predominated the entire program presented at Jean B. Elwell Auditorium, Thursday evening by pupils of McKinley School.

Grades one, two and three presented "Grandmother's Garden," a beautiful little fantasy, the work of Miss Winifred Savage, former teacher in the Xenia Schools and now teaching in East Cleveland.

The characters were: "Little Girl," Betty Jane Pavey; "Elf Leader," Melvin Diamond; "Dandelions," Ruby Manor and Dorothy McCoy; "Violets," Evelyn Quinn and Virginia Kinsey; "Daisies," Betty Baldwin and Suzanne Gorton; "Tulips," Mae Davis and Adrienne Dangas; "Snowballs," Annis Hunt and Martha Lampert; "Roses," Lucille Thoroman and Georgetta Harvey. Elves, caterpillars, birds, grasshoppers, butterflies and bees made up the background of the play.

The second part of the program was "Midsummer Eve," a musical fairy play, the first scene of which was laid in a wood at night. Frances Bryson took the part of "Dorothy," and the boys and girls of grade four were will-o'-wisp, with Helen Mackrott the first will-o'-wisp and Charles Adair the second.

The second scene was at the court of the Fairy Queen. The characters were "Herald," Olin Waltz; "Queen," Juanita McPherson; "Arbutus," Dorothy Neeld; "Innocence," Martha Ann Baughn; "Flowers," girls of the fourth grade; "Green Elves," boys of the fifth grade; "Spirit Of Dawn," Jane Harner.

The girls of the fifth grade sang a pretty "flower song" followed by a drill by the girls of grades four, five and six. The boys of the fourth grade sang an elf song and the boys of grades four, five and six gave an elf drill.

The last of the "Know Your Schools" program will be given Friday evening, when the pupils of Central First Grade will present, "Old Fashioned Garden," and the Central Junior High School will take part in "The Quest of Youth."

SUPPORT TONIC SALE

Arthur C. Erbaugh, Yellow Springs, officer of the Ohio State Druggist Association attended a meeting of the Dayton Druggist's Association Thursday night at which a resolution was passed declaring the sale of building alcohol and "tonics" by druggists to be legitimate. If the sale of "tonics" is illegal the government should stop it at its source, the resolution stated.

"NOT POSSIBLE TO CLASSIFY"

BY MACK SAUER

THE old-time pack peddler, sharp-eyed and whiskered, is seen no more. Peddling is a lost art. Once a striking figure, now only a memory. How and where he lived was one of the eternal mysteries. Usually of foreign appearance, he spoke in broken English. Unheralded he would slip into a community and then slip out as quietly as he came.

There was one who carried his two telescopic bags full of gingham and calicoes. He made regular territory and would never accept a ride. He wore two coats winter and summer and invariably had his coat lapels covered with badges. His shoulders were stooped from the weight of countess trips under heavy bundles. While walking through a city, he would never use the sidewalk, preferring rather to stroll along the gutters, picking up stray bits of string, paper and what not.

To all the countryside he was "Joe, The Peddler." And as everybody expected, Joe died with his pack strapped to his shoulders. A long trip through the steep and rocky hills of Scioto county in the dead of winter. In a fierce, biting storm he fell. For a mile he crawled through the snow on a broken limb. The next day his body, cold and stiff, was found by hunters.

A search of his clothes revealed $1,000 sewed in his underwear. A bank book showed savings of nearly $5,000. Cancelled checks, however, proved that most of his money had gone—Joe had given it to the poor. Folks came from miles away to pay a word of tribute to the peddler.

Behind each wanderer was a story. One was unjustly accused when young. The staves that came from his neighbors cut him deep. He soon found himself going about the country with a pack on his back, resigned to the life of a peddler.

A man may be poor
And cannot raise cash,
But must any man
Can raise a mustache.

HAS SMITH SOLVED OUTFIELD PROBLEM OF REDS THIS YEAR?

From all outward appearances, it begins to look as if Elmer J. Smith will solve the Cincinnati Reds' outfield problem this year.

Duplicating his performance of last Saturday, Smith cracked out two four-base clouts, besides a double, accounted for five of his team's nine runs, and practically single-handed enabled the Reds to win from Nashville, 9 to 6, Wednesday. Last Saturday Elmer made two circuit smashes in one inning and followed up Tuesday with another home run.

Ever since the release of Pat Duncan and George Burns, veteran and regular gardeners, Manager Jack Hendricks was faced with the apparent fact that the outfield was dismantled.

Roush and Walker were the only other regulars and Rube Bressler, the other substitute outfielder, had to be made into a first sacker to fill the shoes of Jake Daubert, deceased field captain.

This left but one man, Bohne, who might take his place regularly in the field. However, Bohne is not an outfielder, but is more at home in the infield.

BOY SCOUTS WILL COUNT TRAFFIC AT POINTS IN COUNTY

Scoutmaster R. H. Kingsbury announced Thursday that in co-operation with the United States Bureau of Public Roads, and the Ohio Division of Highways, twenty-eight Xenia Boy Scouts will make a traffic count at designated points in the county Monday, April 13. The highway division is undertaking a comprehensive survey of traffic over the entire road system of Ohio.

The highway department desires to make a traffic count at 800 or more places in the state, three times, namely, one day each in April, June and August, hence the resultant call for voluntary assistance.

The Boy Scouts of America volunteered to make the traffic count for the state department, beginning April 13, the first date. The local scouts will be taken to the various points in the county Monday morning and returned by officials of the Greene County Auto Club who will provide transportation, in the evening.

CARROLL-BINDER CO. ADOPTS CALDWELL & TAYLOR BENZOL GAS

After months of investigation on the merits of different motor fuels the Carroll-Binder Co. has at last decided that Caldwell & Taylor's Benzol gas is the best gas for summer driving as well as in winter. Since excessive heat has a tendency to break down motor oil and retard proper lubrication the use of a cool running fuel has been advised by scientific investigators during the summer months. In tests made at the Ohio State University, temperatures of the crankcase, oil and radiator taken while the motor was under full load, prove conclusively that Caldwell and Taylor's Benzol Gas runs cooler in a motor, either high or low test gasoline.

Their tests also proved that more mileage was obtained from this fuel than other fuel, and the only change needed on your car is to adjust to a thinner mixture, which means the use of less gas.

Motor knocks, it is claimed will be entirely eliminated by the use of Caldwell and Taylor's Benzol gas. Benzol gas is of such high quality that it can be used for cleaning purposes without danger of leaving a grease spot. It also has proven the right sort of fuel for lamps and stoves as it is free from smoke.

Benzol gas is used in all flying machines because of its dependability.

MICHAEL'S MARRIAGE

By MICHAEL

CHAPTER XII.
The lawyer arrived promptly at eight o'clock. Thurber was a small, lean individual in his sixties, weak in expression, who was the Menlow family lawyer because Michael's father, himself a man of slight physique, disliked being overawed by the usual ponderous voice and bearing of the successful barrister.

"Good evening, Michael. I hope you are well," Mr. Thurber began in his thin voice.

Michael uttered the conventional answer and offered the lawyer a chair. They got down to business immediately. Michael suspected that Sally was listening from some hidden point of vantage, and had an impulse to call out, "Quit snooping, Sally!" but contented himself with glancing searchingly and severely in the direction of all the places she might be concealed.

"Your mother's will is to be probated in the morning. I called this evening to allow you to hear the provisions. I suppose you already know in a general way what they are?"

Michael nodded.

The lawyer carefully adjusted his glasses and scanned the document before reading.

Michael listened indifferently while Thurber read through all of the customary provisions, and his ear paid scarce attention to the clauses immediately following, in which she devised the major share of her property to him, but he was arrested by the final paragraph. It had to do with a small chest which was to be opened by "Mrs. Michael Menlow, my son's wife, on her wedding day."

The lawyer darted a glance at Michael, and their eyes met. Michael was mystified. What could be in the chest? Jewels? No, all of his mother's jewels were accounted for, and in a safety deposit box. Money? No, the idea that she would leave money in a chest, when it could have been devised more safely otherwise, was absurd. What then?

"Have you any idea of what the chest contains?" he asked Thurber.

The lawyer smiled benevolently. "I was just going to ask you that."

They stared at each other for a moment. Then Michael shrugged. "I supposed the chest is in the keeping of the trust company."

"Yes," he paused. "You aren't going to peek, are you?" he asked, half seriously, half humorously. His eyes were studying the youth.

"Oh, no! I just—" Michael responded, confused, and slightly angered by the visitor's suggestion.

"Well," Thurber proceeded, oblivious of the offense he had given.

"the estate is, I know, in pretty good condition, and it won't be long before it is turned over to you. Your mother was a pretty sensible woman, and didn't allow her affairs to get tangled up." He pronounced pretty as if spelled purty.

"She was fortunate in having good counsellors, Mr. Thurber," Michael, though he did not like this tribute.

"Thank you, Michael, thank you. It makes me feel mighty good to hear you say that. And I hope that I can help you over any snags that you encounter. An old head and a young head go mighty well together."

Michael did not commit himself regarding this matter. He already had in mind turning over most of his legal affairs to a younger man. He felt about old lawyers as he regarded old physicians: Their heads are in the past, so how can their feet walk in the present?

When Thurber had gone, Michael went to the telephone to call Lilah Pharely, but replaced the receiver before giving his number. No, he mustn't rush matters. His flowers would speak for him today. He could phone her tomorrow. He was anxious to try out his newly acquired dancing knowledge. Then his sense of guilt over having failed to properly keep his period of mourning for his mother returned. He sat down to think about it: "I don't think she would want me to brood and brood about it," he decided. He got up, and went back to the telephone, but not to call Lilah. He rang up Alonzo Capper.

"Hey, Lonnie, whatcha doing?"

"Where did you get that 'hey'?"

"Farmer? I'm reading the Heptameron and enjoying life generally," was the response.

"I thought I'd run over for a while. I have something to tell you." He had in mind the clause in his mother's will regarding the chest.

"Come on over, then."

Katherine met Michael at the door. "He's upstairs, too lazy to dress and come down and meet you. He even demanded that his dinner be sent up."

"I'll pull him out." He started up the stairs.

"Oh, Michael!"

He turned to face Katherine.

"You seem to have made quite an impression upon Lilah. She was asking me about you today—I met her downtown."

"Oh, she did? Well," Michael turned away to hide his flushed face. Then he bounded up the stairs three at a time, his heart athrill.
